Blast Comes As Sponsor Denies Part In Rigging

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigator today challenged statements by a television quiz show sponsor that he was not aware of program fixing, and suggested the Justice Department look into seeming conflicts of testimony.

Rep. Steven B. Derounian (R-N.Y.) raised the issue after hearing Martin Revson, former vice president of Revlon, Inc., sharply reject any idea that Revlon was a party to rigging "The $64,000 Challenge" or "The $64,000 Question," sponsored by the cosmetics firm.

DENIES KNOWLEDGE

Revson denied to the House subcommittee investigating TV rigging that he knew anything about controlling contestants on the defunct programs, but said he now realizes "they were dishonest, absolutely dishonest shows."

"You have been quibbling," Derounian told Revson. "First you say you don't know anything about the contestants. Then you say you know some things. You are no dope."

Outside the hearing room when the committee recessed, Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) told reporters "there is a clear case of perjury here by someone. I'm not saying who has committeed perjury but someone clearly has."

NOT TELLING TRUTH

Earlier, during Revson's interrogation, Bennett observed that someone was not telling the truth about Revlon's awareness of program rigging.

As the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight heard Revson challenge testimony that Revlon was aware quiz contestants were fixed, there were these additional developments:

1. House investigators made public closed-door testimony that the NBC quiz program "Tic Tac Dough" was rigged. Army Capt. Michael O'Rourke won $108,000 on this show before falling to New Jersey salesman Martin Dowd. Dowd testified he got the answers from producer Howard Felsher, but said he was sure O'Rourke was not coached.

2. Investigators also disclosed that Albert Freedman, former producer of the NBC program "Twenty-One," has prom-

Ike To Visit 9 Countries In Aerial Goodwill Trip

Europe, Middle East, Asia On His Itinerary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today announced plans for a historic personal trip to nine countries in Europe, Asia and the Middle East next month.

The President told his news conference he will leave Dec. 4 and visit Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, France and Morocco.

This was a far more extensive itinerary than originally indicated. The tour will take two and one-half weeks.

Eisenhower said he hoped that by this trip he would build, particularly in Asia, a better understanding of the United States, and — at all points of his jet plane journey — good will for the United States.

His schedule, which will bring him back to Washington Dec. 22, will include three days in Paris, Dec. 19-21, for the Western summit meeting. On his way home from Paris, he will visit Rabat, Morocco.

In Rome, Eisenhower will meet with Pope John XXIII, in addition to conferring with leaders of the Italian government. It will make the first time an American President has visited a Pope.

Because the trip will fall into a period which Eisenhower normally devotes to preparing his State of the Union message, his new budget and other legislative recommendations for the new Congress, much of this work will have to be done between now and his Dec. 4 departure. In discussing the overall purpose of his trip and what he hoped to accomplish, Eisenhower dwelled mostly on Asia.

He said no president in office ever had visited that part of the world. He said that area was important not only because of relationships with the United States, but because of its status as a constantly growing center of world population.

He said he had long wanted to visit India, where 400 million people were struggling so hard to raise their own standards of living and realize their human ambitions.

Missing Child TV Star Hops Plane

BALTIMORE (AP) — Little Evelyn Rudie stepped off a jet airliner in Baltimore today after touching off a kidnap scare and said calmly she was just on her way to visit President and Mrs. Eisenhower in Washington.

The little television actress had disappeared from her Hollywood home early today and a frantic search began immediately.

ON JETLINER

The youngster came into Baltimore aboard an American Airlines jet unaccompanied. She was met at the top of the boarding ramp by Lt. Carl K. Kunannic of the airport police.

The officer said he had been asked to meet the plane by the mother of the 9-year-old child.

"She had talked about going to see her friend Mamie Eisenhower," said her father, Emery Bernauer.

HER OWN MONEY

The child, whose IQ of 140 puts her in the genius class, apparently bought her ticket with money from her toy safe.

The father said Evelyn recently had played at packing an overnight case, with her mother, saying she would like to go see Mrs. Eisenhower to enlist her help in lining up a television series.

PLAYED GAME

"We played at this game," the mother said. "She kept saying she wanted to see Mrs. Eisenhower to help her get the series. I said—joking—'If you want to go see her, go ahead. Pack your bag, buy your ticket and go.' I never dreamed she would take it seriously."

American Airlines gave this explanation of how Evelyn got the airplane ticket:

Last Friday, the airline's Hollywood reservation office received a call from a person identifying herself as Evelyn's mother. The caller asked for reservations to Baltimore and said she would send Evelyn down with a check for the amount of the ticket. The airline said Evelyn would have to bring in identification so the check signer's signature could be checked.

On Monday, Evelyn appeared at the ticket office. But, instead of presenting a check, she pulled out her Lone Ranger wallet and paid for the ticket in cash ($125.90).

Then she went to the airport this morning and boarded the plane. The airline said anyone over 8 years old can fly unaccompanied by an adult provided the full fare is paid.

FBI Investigating Two Sea Deaths

The Coast Guard called in the Federal Bureau of Investigation today to seek to solve the mystery of how two men came to fall to their deaths in the ocean from a converted tugboat that sailed out of Sausalito in search of bottom fish.

The body of one of them, Norman Carpenter, San Francisco father of two children, was found by Coast Guard searchers yesterday about a mile from where the old tug boat Southerly was drifting east of the Farallones.

The body of the other, Clifford Miller of Daly City, owner of the craft, was still missing.

A section of the stern rail of the Southerly had broken off. The decking to which it was attached was rotton, said police in San Francisco, where the craft was towed last night.

Survivor of the tragedy at sea was Edward Vinson, 42-year-old San Leandro railroad switchman who went along for the ride with his friends, Miller and Carpenter. He told investigators an eerie tale when the Southerly was docked at a San Francisco pier by the Coast Guard.

It was Vinson's first trip to sea, he said, and he "wasn't feeling so well." He went below decks yesterday morning, lay down and fell asleep.

He was awakened about 10 a.m., he said, when the motor coughed and died.

"I yelled up, 'Everything OK?'" he related. "They didn't answer. I went up to the deck and they were both gone."

Vinson had no idea how to operate the boat. But he managed to flash a "mayday" distress signal. The Coast Guard responded.

Sausalito P.O. Moving To New Building

Workers moving the contents of the old Sausalito Post Office on El Portal to the new building at Bridgeway and Johnson street today ran into the usual moving day confusion, but "things were going along as well as can be expected," reported acting Postmaster Dorothy E. Finn.

At the same time, Mrs. Finn announced the program for dedication of the new building at 2 p.m. on Nov. 11.

She said the new building will be in operation at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow without any interruption in service. Mail deliveries were being made as usual today.

Speaker at the dedication will be Robert Fahs, assistant to the regional director of the San Francisco region of the Post Office Department.

Ernie Smith, former Marin resident who lives in Sonoma, and a former sports news broadcaster, will be master of ceremonies. Councilman John

Recreation Area Fixed In Marinwood

There was joy in Marinwood last night after the board of supervisors asked to designate a 10-acre parcel of land for recreation, amended the master plan. Eight other acres have already been so designated.

The move was in line with recommendations of both the Marinwood Home Owners Assn. and Planning Director Mary Summers.

Culminating the hearing, Supervisor Vera L. Schultz moved that the master plan be amended by the planning commission and the county counsel drawing up a resolution and a map to convert the now commercially zoned area to recreational use.

The supervisors asked that other areas be designated to replace the lost commercial area and the church site.

A burst of applause from the packed room met the supervisors' 4-0 vote. Supervisor William D. Fusselman had asked for a delay for further study and then left the meeting.

The decision yesterday ended months of weary discussion of who wanted what land for what use.

The original plan called for 27 acres of recreational land in Marinwood. This was later amended to 18 acres of better consolidated areas. But the Marinwood County Services Assn., after buying a $18,000 fire truck, has had no place to

Terra Linda Study Voted By District

The Terra Linda Community Services District board last night voted to have an independent study made of feasibility of annexation or incorporation for Terra Linda.

Alternatives to be studied are: Annexation to San Rafael of a portion of the community services district as currently proposed, annexation of the whole district, incorporation of Terra Linda and adjacent land, or remaining as a community services district.

The board agreed to have the study made by a firm or individual recommended by the Coro Foundation.

The motion by Elmer Johnson was carried unanimously.

A. C. Agnew, a resident, praised the board's action "although it might be committing a form of political suicide for this board. It certainly demonstrates that the best intentions of the community are being served."

The board also formed a recreation commission. The district previously sponsored a summer recreation program and is forming the commission so that Dixie School District funds available for such a program during the school year can be used.

Proposed as commission members were Chairman Robert Thompson, Nita Mehrtens,

U.S. Mediator Recesses Talks In Steel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) —Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan recessed indefinitely today after a fruitless half-hour meeting between management and union negotiating teams.

Finnegan said both sides were instructed to be ready to return at any time. But, he said, it is unlikely there would be any new session before Friday.

The mediation director said both parties in the 113-day strike had their eyes on the Supreme Court, which heard arguments yesterday on whether an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction should be allowed to go into effect.

The court gave no indication of when it would hand down its decision. Three hours of discussions behind closed doors yesterday brought no announcement of results.

But is was expected generally the court would not long delay its ruling.

The ruling will affect both the strike itself and emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, under which the back-to-work injunction was issued two weeks ago.

WON'T LEAVE BUS

'Heart Victim' Fails To Appreciate Help

A police car, a fire engine and an ambulance went screaming to the San Anselmo Greyhound Bus depot yesterday in response to an emergency call, but the "victim" proved unappreciative.

It started with a call to San Anselmo police by Mrs. Florence Watters, clerk on duty at the bus station. A man in the 8:59 a.m. commuter bus, parked near the depot, was apparently suffering a heart attack, she said.

Police responded after notifying firemen, who sent a resuscitator crew. A United ambulance went to the scene.

But when all the forces arrived moments later, the man was in no difficulty. Furthermore, he wasn't talking And he wasn't moving, either, said police officers—not from the bus, anyway.

The man refused to leave the bus for a free ride to a hospital. He refused even to reveal his name or residence, except to say he lived in San Anselmo.

The bus driver, R. G. Doggett of 293 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, was unable to take the bus, filled with passengers, on its scheduled run to San Francisco, for fear the "victim" was not fully recovered.

"There was nothing that could be done," said Mrs. Watters. "We had to let him sit there even if the bus failed to meets its schedule."

When a second bus arrived at 9:19 a.m., the passengers on Doggett's bus got off to transfer buses. So did the the "victim," described only being about 40 years old, well dressed and carrying a brown brief case.

The man, who had boarded the first bus in San Rafael, got off in San Francisco.

NEW POST OFFICE FOR SAUSALITO — Thomas M. Bradley, who retired as Sausalito postmaster last April 30, drops in at new post office at Bridgeway and Johnson street to inspect, with Acting Postmaster Dorothy E. Finn, the rows and rows of new lock boxes. Today was moving day for Sausalito Post Office, with "big stuff" to be moved tonight from the old office on El Portal. Windows of new office will open for business tomorrow morning. (Independent-Journal photo)

FIRST AIR TRIP FOR THE ATLAS MISSILE

A 75-foot Atlas missile is loaded aboard a Douglas C-133 Cargomaster plane at San Diego yesterday for the first airlift of the missile, now pronounced combat-ready. Space Capsule Escape Gear Success In Test

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Escape equipment was successfully tested today for the U. S. Satellite capsule that will carry man into space. This was done in a rocket shot at Wallops Island, Va.

The capsule was launched to an altitude of 38,000 feet by engineers of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration with a powerful Little Joe booster.

'COMPLETE SUCCESS'

"The test was a complete success," an administration spokesman said.

The capsule, similar to the one in which a Mercury astronaut will be fired into orbit some time in 1961, descended into the Atlantic five miles from the space agency's Wallops test station on the eastern shore of Virginia.

The launching was the second in a series of Little Joe flights to perfect escape and rescue equipment designed for the Mercury program.

The pilot escape system consists of a tower-like rocket on top of the capsule. If anything goes wrong at launch time, the escape rocket can be triggered to lift the capsule free of the booster.

MAXIMUM PRESSURE

In today's test, the escape system was subjected to the maximum air pressures which could occur in a manned flight.

The launching also provided information on "design concepts of the capsule" itself, the space administration said, and on capabilities of the Little Joe booster and the operation of the capsule's recovery parachutes.

Little Joe is an eight-engine rocket specially designed for Mercury tests. It was first fired Oct. 3. In that flight the entire booster package—four large Pollux engines and four Recruits—were used. In today's, a short trajectory was desired and only two of the Pollux engines were fired.

85 Hurt As Panama Mobs Stage Wild Anti-U.S. Riots

PANAMA (AP) — Panama was off limits for Americans living in the Canal Zone today after violent anti-U.S. demonstrations during the 56th anniversary of Panama's independence. At least 82 persons were injured, three seriously.

Crowds of demonstrators, protesting U.S. control of the canal, tore down the American flag at the U.S. Embassy yesterday, stoned the embassy and the U.S. Information Service office, overturned American autos and battled U.S. canal police for four hours.

The mobs finally were routed by Panamanian National Guardsmen, Canal Zone police and fireman and U.S. Army troops armed with rifles, bayonets and machine guns. The Canal Zone police arrested six demonstrators.

Anti-American demonstrations also took place in Colon, Panama's second largest city at the Caribbean end of the canal. One mob broke into a U.S.-owned railroad station and carried off the cash box. The ticket agent escaped by locking himself in his office.

Troops from the Army's Caribbean Command stood guard along the Canal Zone's borders. The 90,000 Americans living in the Zone were ordered to stay inside the 500 square miles of U.S. territory. The Army canceled plans for units in march in a Panamanian flag day parade in the capital today.

The target of yesterday's outbreaks—touched off by Panamanian nationalists—was the unusual hold the United States has over the zone. The United States was granted control of the zone in perpetuity after it helped the Panamanians win their independence from Colombia. In recent years Panamanian nationalists have been demanding that their government establish its sovereignty over the zone.

While there was no evidence of government participation in the demonstrations, the government frequently has complained that Panamanian employees of the Canal Zone Co. are not treated as well as U.S. employees and also that Panama should be paid more rent for the canal.

Ben-Gurion's Party Wins In Israel Vote

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—General election returns today assured Premier David Ben-Gurion's dominant Mapai Party an even stronger role in the Israeli Parliament for the next four years.

Ben-Gurion and his followers will still lack a majority in the 120-member Parliament, but they drew more than 38 per cent of the popular vote in the balloting yesterday against 32.2 per cent in 1955.

Though the exact division under Israel's proportional representation system will not be decided for about a week, an unofficial count indicated that Mapai representatives, who held 40 seats in the old Parliament, will now control 45 or 60.

County Studies Giving Land To Local Groups

A list of county-owned properties which might be given to various local area organizations has been put before the Marin County Board of Supervisors by County Administrator, Donald A. Jensen, on a basis of information from the county auditor-general and a special committee.

To obtain further information, the supervisors yesterday decided to postpone action for two weeks until Nov. 17.

"I feel the board should see these properties," said Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, "and also find out the continuity of the various homeowners associations."

County Clerk George S. Jones suggested that by disposing of such properties the board would absolve the county of any liability that might arise in connection with them.

Properties which it was felt should be deeded to a local public entity included:

County Park, Inverness: Land $2,000, improvements $3,300; to be deeded to Inverness Public Utility District.

Bolinas Tennis Court: Land $4,000, improvements $2,000; to Bolinas Public Utility District.

Northeast half of Lot 18, Deer Park Subdivision 1: Land $90, to City of Fairfax.

Property proposed to be deeded to local improvement clubs included:

Park area, Kay Park Subdivision 1: Land $2,520, to Kay Park Home Owners Assn.

Park Area, Vendola and Mabray (Castro Park): Land $1,000 to Santa Venetia Improvement Assn.

Abandoned, so returning to original ownership, is Dusel Court sewer plant, land $520.

Property not now utilized but with possible future use included: 2.93 acres on Muir Woods road, $1,170; Stinson Beach, 22 acres east of Upton Tract, $5,000; 1.21 acres marked Creek Reserve on Raven road, Sleepy Hollow, $220.

A committee recommendation was that if there is concurrence, the board should notify local organizations of county intention to abandon and offer on that basis to deed to them.

ONE WAY TO GET RID OF PESKY WASPS

They set fire to a rolled up newspaper and tried to burn out the nest. The fire quickly spread along the roof of the three-story building.

County's Medical Policy Subject For Radio Debate

Marin County policy in medical care for emergency cases will be aired on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m.

Guests of Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator, will be Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county medical director; John H. Prescott, San Rafael General Hospital administrator; S. Ames Pence, Marin General Hospital administrator; Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, and Dr. Calvin Plumhof, Marin County Medical Assn. member and adviser to the county physician's office.

Questions from listeners will be directed to the panelists.

The program will be taped for presentation again Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Atlas Ready For Combat, General Says

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — An Atlas missile can be hurled up to 6,3000 miles on 15 minutes notice from Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Maj. Gen. David Wade, commander of the 1st Missile Division, said this in a speech to the Inland Empire Waterways Assn. yesterday.

An Atlas unit is the first intercontinental ballastic missile squadron to reach combat readiness, he said, and has been integrated into the Strategic Air Command emergency war plan.

The Atlas, Titan and Minuteman programs at the California base, the general said, "represent SAC's first step into the realm of space. As the springboard for that step, Vandenberg is becoming an aerospace center of the nation."

The average Atlas squadron consists of nine launching pads. But only three are ready to fire at Vandenberg and six other pads are under construction.

Wade conceded that America's missile progress, has lagged in the past decade.

Sewer Line Approved

Directors of the Tiburon Sanitary District have approved the installation of sewer facilities at Red Hill's El Marinero subdivision, according to secretary Robert A. Sterling.

YOUNG HOBO AND HIS JUNGLE HOME

David Croft, 10, of Glendale, sits beside the railroad culvert where he spent four days with new-found hobo friends after running away from home. Police found him Monday night and returned him to his mother. David, who helped replenish the hobo jungle larder on Halloween by trick-or-treating, said he ran away because of a reprimand at school. 3rd Candidate Enters Novato Council Race

Harvey J. Vicchio, a director of the North Marin Sanitary District for seven years, yesterday became the third candidate to file for city councilman of the proposed City of Novato.

The vote on the incorporation and for the election of a five-man council is scheduled for Jan. 12. Deadline for filing for office is Nov. 19 at noon.

FAVORS INCORPORATION

Vicchio, an outspoken proponent of incorporation of Novato, appeared before the board of supervisors several times during hearings on the proposed boundaries to urge that the new city include all territory in the sanitary district. In the final map approved by the supervisors, however, the district was not included in its entirety.

In answer to those who maintain that Novato is not yet ready for incorporation, Vicchio told the Independent-Journal today: "In my opinion, it is not too early to incorporate, but almost too late. If we had done it earlier, we would have had more time to cope with growth."

PHONE EMPLOYEE

He and his wife, Janice, have lived in Novato since 1952, when they came to Marin from Vallejo. The 36-year-old Air Force veteran of World War II has been employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. as an engineer for 14 years.

The Vicchios have two children, Pamela, 6, and Bert, 3.

A native of San Francisco and a graduate of University of Nevada, Vicchio is a past president of the Novato 20-30 Club, past president of the North Marin Civic Council and a member of the curriculum study committee of the Novato Unified School District.

"I will campaign to be elected, but I will work harder and first for the incorporation of Novato," Vicchio said. "I believe this to be of the utmost importance.

"The task gets more difficult if we wait any longer. Look around you! As a community we need everything. The need becomes more critical as time passes. Without a government entity to work for these needs, they will never be met."

San Rafael Fire Commission Sets Meet For Tonight

San Rafael Fire Commission will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall to recommend appointment of three new firemen and discuss possible new firehouses in Terra Linda and Glenwood.

Harry M. Williams will be acting chairman. Former chairman was the late Councilman Joseph F. Sauer. The new representative from the city council is Louis H. Baar.

The commission plans to present a resolution of commendation to Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy for his services as volunteer fireman and physician.

Members of the fire commission include Williams, Baar, W. C. Herup, Warren Crane and the fire chief. Since Fire Chief C. M. Johansen is ill, Deputy Fire Chief Vance Trivett will sit in his place.

Paul J. Richards, administrative assistant to the city manager is acting secretary of the commission.

Gas Station Operator Again Cuts Prices

One station cutting prices doesn't make a "gas war," as Fred Pape learned to his cost last month; but Pape is trying it again.

Pape, operator of the Boulevard Service at 200 Francisco boulevard in San Rafael, said today he plans to hold gasoline prices at 29.9 cents per gallon for regular and 34.9 cents for ethyl gas "for a long time."

SITUATION CHANGED

The service station operator cut the price of regular gasoline to 26.9 cents a little over a month ago, then restored normal prices after he found the out-of-pocket loss too great. He said the situation is changed this time.

"I'll break even at this price," he said. "I was losing too much before."

DOWN FIVE CENTS

Pape's new prices are five cents under the regular San Rafael prices for the brand he handles—Union.

The lone San Rafael dealer's previous price cut coincided with the start of a brief gasoline price war in Novato which sent prices down to 27.9 and 28.9 cents per gallon for regular gas at most Novato stations. That war, too, has since been abandoned. Novato prices went to 33.9 and 37.9 for regular and ethyl, respectively, about two weeks ago, with some stations a cent higher.

Tiburon Firemen Nominate Tonight

The Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will nominate officers for 1960 at its meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse, according to president Raymond F. Coombes.

The volunteers also will complete plans for their annual firemen's ball on Nov. 14 at the Corinthian Yacht Club.

SAUSALITO COMMITTEE

Conditions For Boat's Use As Store Studied

The Sausalito City Council last night appointed Councilman John E. Koenig Jr. to head an official city committee to study a planning commission recommendation on conditions for use of the ferryboat Berkeley as the Trade Fair store.

Owner William Conover had been granted a permit subject to several conditions.

One condition was that Conover lease 12 parking spaces as close to the ferryboat as possible, the spaces to be designated as reserved. But some council members were worried that the spaces would not serve Conover's customers, but rather would be all-day "free" spaces for whoever happened to get to them first of a morning.

Also the council was worried about traffic flow into the ferryboat area, and the opening of an upper deck for restrooms.

Since Conover said he was not planning to do any work on the boat for a few months, the council decided to give the conditions further study.

In addition to the other conditions, Koenig's committee is to study cutting of piling to street level, interest of the city as an insured party in case the boat becomes a casualty, installation of signs and flags and use of sound and lighting.

The Sausalito Council also:

1. Heard a preliminary report on the proposed rapid transit system from City Manager Donald A. Duerr, and asked him to arrange for appearance of a transit district representative at a future council meeting.
2. Approved a further expenditure of $500 for Christmas street decorations at the request of the chamber of commerce, to be added to $150 already budgeted, and asked the chamber to present its plans at the next meeting, Nov. 17.
3. Awarded a contract to Ghillotti Brothers to install a drainage culvert on South street at $1,644.
4. Declared its intention to exercise an option to purchase the South View Park property. The property formerly was the South School site, and can be acquired for $23,500 if it is to be used for recreation, or for $46,200 if used for other purposes.
5. Passed an ordinance extending for six months the city zoning laws until a general plan is adopted.
6. Postponed discussion of the general plan to allow the city manager and city clerk time to correlate information on questions raised at a special meeting last week.
7. Passed an ordinance establishing the first and third Tuesdays as regular city council meeting dates. The council has been meeting the third Tuesday of each month in an adjourned session.
8. Upheld denial by the planning commission of an application for a variance from the minimum lot size by Frank E. Switek.
9. Approved $36,098 in warrants, including the city payroll.
10. Empowered the city attorney to work out with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. an agreement on installation of underground utilities on Railroad avenue for the Yacht Club and the Trade Fair.

Owner Of Novato Shop In Hospital

Ernest R. Vogel, Novato fix-it shop owner sometimes referred to as "the mayor of Novato," was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Vogel was taken to the hospital yesterday on the advice of his physician. Hospital attendants today did not disclose the nature of his ailment.

School Board Sets Executive Meeting

Trustees of the Sausalito School District will hold an executive closed meeting tonight to consider a personnel matter concerning a woman teacher.

Officials of the district would disclose no more than this. It was hinted the matter was one that could not be aired in public.

The executive session will be held at the close of a special meeting scheduled for 8 p.m., when trustees are to consider child care center policies.

Larkspur Planners Approve New Medical-Dental Building

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night granted Crown Development Co. a zoning ordinance for construction of a medical-dental building on the south side of Bon Air road, near the new Bon Air Bridge.

Joseph Glicksberg, spokesman for the firm, said the building will have two stories over ground-level parking facilities.

Plans for the structure, to be built in three stages, will be submitted later.

The proposed site is in a one-family residential zone. The commission attached several conditions to the variance.

Plans submitted by Robert L. Hamann of Larkspur for a seven-unit apartment house on King street also received commission approval.

The two-story building will be located between Magnolia and Monte Vista avenues, behind the Larkspur City Hall. It will be built by Edward W. Burgar, Inc., of San Rafael.

Ft. Baker Club Hosts Spaghetti Dinner Tonight

The service club at Ft. Baker tonight will take on the atmosphere of an Italian cafe with a public spaghetti dinner and entertainment, the first of four planned programs at the center this month with the theme "Around the World in 30 Days."

Tonight's dinner will be served at 7:30, announced Natalie Friedman, service club director.

Future nights this month with international flavors, she said, will include "French and Scandinavian Night" Nov. 22 at 7:30 p.m. and "Western Night" Nov. 24 at 8 p.m. featuring a United States theme.

French and Scandinavian folk dance clubs will be on hand Nov. 22 to provide entertainment. Dancing on Western Nights will be to the music of Mill Valley's Rhythm Rams.

Marindale School Gifts Top Tonight's Agenda

Members of the Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at Marin General Hospital annex to discuss purchase of a piano and a group hearing aid device for a class at Marindale School in Terra Linda.

The group also will watch a film strip concerning the rehabilitation of deaf children and adults.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today with scattered stocks making wide moves. Trading quieted after an active early session.

Volume for the day was estimated at four million shares compared with 3,320,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among key stocks while volatile issue moved as much as half a dozen points.

American Motors held about six of an early eight-point jump. Revlon, spotlighted by the television quiz investigation, dropped about four.

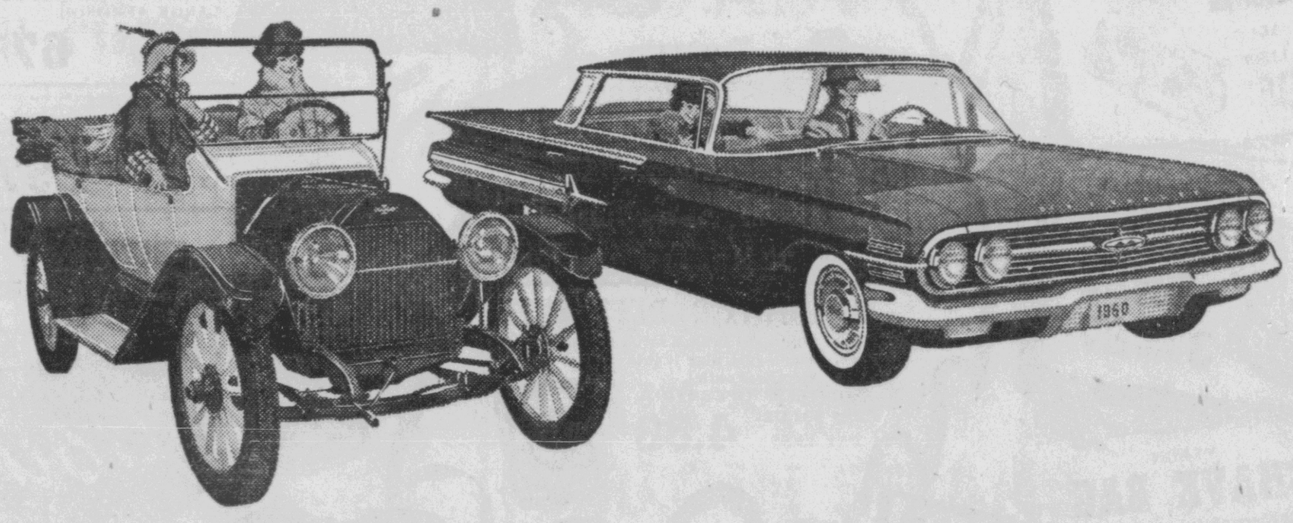
(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS



The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by continuing to offer more of the things you want, by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

To Build the Kind of Products You Want and Need. Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair, the result of nine years' development. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done. Each of these products is the best of its kind we have ever made. Each, we believe, reflects your wishes, your desires and your needs to an exceptional degree.

To Build Them the Way You Want Them Built. But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want.

They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully. Built to serve you long and faithfully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more of our engineering and manufacturing people, and by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before. We are determined that your new Chevrolet shall reach you with everything looking and fitting and working the way it should look and fit and work. And we're determined that, if you give it any reasonable kind of care at all, your Chevrolet shall stay that way for a long, long time.

To Provide Better Care Through Your Chevrolet Dealer. Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system to provide your Chevrolet dealer with the parts you need in the quickest possible time. And that is why we have, together with your Chevrolet dealer, initiated a comprehensive new program designed to make available even finer service at any time you want it.

A New Department—Your Department. Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. Our interest in you and your satisfaction continues as long as you own one of our products. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family . . . and to welcome a growing number of new members.

A Special Message from Chevrolet and Your Local Authorized Chevrolet Dealer

Bail Bondsman Loses License For 30 Days

A 30-day suspension of the bail bondsman license of James V. Stragnola of San Rafael was ordered today by State Insurance Commissioner F. Britton McConnell.

In signing the suspension order, McConnell upheld the finding of hearing officer Jerome Herst of San Francisco.

John L. Rockwell of Fairfax, attorney for Stragnola, said he would file immediately with Marin Superior Court an application for a writ of mandamus to stay the order.

The hearing officer upheld two charges of soliciting against Stragnola, while dismissing a third. Rockwell called the soliciting counts "a very technical interpretation of the insurance commission's rules with which we do not agree." Several other charges of a technical nature were dismissed.

A single charge of soliciting which was heard against Joseph Pecora, also a San Rafael bail bondsman, was dismissed by the officer.

Hearing of the charges was closed Oct. 22.

The Stragnola-Pecora hearings followed license suspension of James J. Shelley, San Anselmo bail bondsman who failed to follow up threats that he would testify against the other two.

Academy Exams To Be Saturday

Examinations for candidates for admission to the U. S. Military, Naval and Air Force Academies will be held in San Rafael on Saturday, and not on Monday as incorrectly reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Col. Robert Nourse, local coordinator for the examinations, said they will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in room 7 of the San Rafael Post Office.

Building Permit Total Dips In Corte Madera

Building permits totaling $120,171, including six one-family homes valued at $89,571, were issued in Corte Madera last month by Building Inspector William G. McBride.

Value of construction represented by October permits was down $26,821 from September and $141,047 from October, 1958. McBride said he collected $866 in fees last month.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

8:35 a.m., Marin City—Fire in old car at Bay Auto Wreckers, north end of Richardson Bay Bridge; caused by spark from cutting torch; put out by firemen.

9:15 a.m., Corte Madera—Half-acre marshlands fire behind Paddock Pools Co. on Highway 101 caused by rubbish burning on company property; no damage to structures.

10:45 a.m., San Anselmo—Child locked in bathroom at 238 Sequoia avenue; when firemen arrived, youngster opened the door.

MOVE

E. Koenig will represent the city.

The drum and bugle corps of Seapoint Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West will provide music.

Cub Scout Cary Hayes will recite the ode, "I Am the American Flag." Rupert Kempf, president of the College of Marin board of trustees, will lead assembled guests in singing of the national anthem.

Rev. Henry O'Flynn, pastor of Star of the Sea Catholic Church, will offer the invocation, and Rev. Joseph F. Doron, pastor of Christ Church Episcopal, will pronounce the benediction.

The dedication, sponsored by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the loading ramp at the side of the new building.

ACREAGE

put it. The home owners association, represented by Wendell Freeman, president, asked for a level area for firehouse and recreational buildings. Hoytt Enterprises, Marinwood developer, said the commercial land eyed by the association was available but at commercial site prices.

The issue has had the planning commission split down the middle.

Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro said he thought the matter should be put to a vote of the supervisors "right now" to settle the problem and conclude the hearing. Supervisor Fusselman left. The board passed Mrs. Schultz' motion, which sets aside a 10-acre parcel northeast of the Lucas Valley road and Miller Creek road intersection. It also leaves an additional eight acres for recreation elsewhere.

Clue To Parents Of Foundling Doesn't Pan Out

One of the "leads" on the baby boy abandoned in San Rafael last Friday turned out to be unfounded, but police today were working on several others.

Inspector Nick Giampoli said he learned that a 22-year-old San Rafael girl, who moved out of town in September, had her baby in Los Angeles. The girl, unmarried, had been getting welfare aid in Marin. The father is in San Quentin Prison.

Police investigated the case on a chance that the girl might have been the mother of a baby boy found in front of a West End home.

Police were checking a report from a prize fighter in San Mateo, who said his estranged wife was expecting about October. He said his wife is missing, but there is no indication she came to Marin.

Sanitary Boards At Impasse In Dispute

A long-standing dispute between the Corte Madera and Ross Valley Sanitary District Boards reached a virtual impasse last night, but Corte Madera directors expressed new hope that basic differences may yet be resolved.

These were the developments at a meeting of the Corte Madera board:

1. Ralph C. Noah, Ross Valley district manager, returned Corte Madera's partial payment of a bill for September treatment of sewage at Ross Valley's Greenbrae plant. An accompanying note from Ross Valley directors said the voucher was unacceptable because it did not satisfy the bill rendered.

2. Noah personally delivered Ross Valley's October bill, which, like September's, included a new and higher rate for treatment of sewage in excess of 175,000 gallons a day. The latest bill charges the contractual rate of $26.10 per million for six million gallons of Corte Madera sewage and $200 per million for seven million gallons.

3. The board, on advice of Philip Assaf, its legal counsel, decided again to render payment without honoring the $200 rate, which it considers arbitrary.

4. Corte Madera directors voted to invite the Ross Valley board, at its convenience, to schedule a joint directors' meeting for discussion of differences over a new contract. If no reply is received, Corte Madera directors will appear at the regular December meeting of Ross Valley directors and ask to be heard.

"We feel we simply cannot put this off any longer," Director Harold A. Snyder said today. "We have never received an answer to our letter (to Ross Valley directors) which, in a nice way, pointed out the necessity for one more review of this agreement.

"We are prepared to go to them with open minds and certain on determination to meet the requirements of a new agreement to supplant the one we're operating under now."

Among other things, the Corte Madera board desires a contract that will remain in force as long as the Greenbrae sewage plant is useful, not one that will be cut off in a stated number of years.

Larkspur City Council To Get Harbor Report

A financial feasibility report on Larkspur's proposed municipal yacht harbor will be submitted to the Larkspur City Council tonight by City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

If the council is satisfied, Piper will send it to the state Small Craft Harbors Commission along with an application for a $300,000 dvelopment loan. Deadline for filing the application is Nov. 16.

Also scheduled for council discussion is the effect on Larkspur of a proposed route for a rapid transit line through Marin County. The tentative route was announced Oct. 7 at a meeting of Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors.

The council is expected to adopt a zoning ordinance amendment rezoning a parcel of land owned by Primo Pinotti at King, Myrtle and Hawthorne avenues for duplex use. The amendment was introduced Oct. 7 over the protests of a throng of neighborhood residents.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in Larkspur City Hall.

Meter Maid Hit In Minor Mishap

A San Rafael meter maid was involved in a minor automobile collision yesterday noon, but no one was hurt.

Roselle V. Anderson of 609 Vendola drive, Santa Venetia, was on meter patrol duty for San Rafael police, driving a scooter. She said she was headed south on C street at Third and stopped to make a right turn.

Eugene P. Arureguy of 293 Corte Madera avenue, Mill Valley, drove his European bus alongside and sideswiped the patrol scooter. He said he did not notice the scooter at all.

No citation was issued.

New Leader Elected By Gallinas Board

He was elected at a meeting last night to succeed Harry N. Johnston, who resigned as president after a year and a half due to pressure of other affairs but who will remain a member of the board.

The board voted to impose a $2 a month sewer service charge, due to the fact that the board has spent $4,900 since it took over the sewer system last July 1 and is temporarily without funds. In December it should get about $8,000, with an equal amount the following April, from an authorized tax rate of $1 per $100 assessed valuation, Thomas said.

Sixty-day delivery of an aerator was promised Sept. 1 but it hasn't come yet, probably due to the steel strike, Thomas said. On arrival there will be a $700 installation cost on top of its purchase price of $3,000, he noted.

A surplus building to be used for meetings and storage will be acquired from Hamilton Air Force Base if one becomes available on start of a new building program at the base, directors decided. Price of the building is expected to be nominal, around $35, but it is expected to cost $2,000 to remove it and make it fit for service in a new location.

ised to return from Mexico if his testimony is needed. Freedman appeared in closed-door hearings last month, when he refused to implicate Charles Van Doren but denied he tried to borrow $5,000 from Van Doren after Van Doren's winnings went over $100,000.

Two producers of the now-defunct shows testified earlier they were controlled.

Mert Koplin, associate producer, said Revlon was aware of this control. Steven R. Carlin, another associate producer, said the sponsor "indicated to us they had some idea we were controlling the show."

Novato Elects 8 Directors For Chamber

Election of eight new members of the Novato Chamber of Commerce board of directors was announced today by Ben F. Edwards, chairman of the vote canvassing committee.

Edwards said tally of ballots from chamber members showed the following elected:

Dr. Daniel Aughney, Alfred Bellucci, Irving Chapman, Lawrence Dervin, Reuben Kaehler, Raymond Muir, John Sparrow and William Taylor.

The directors will elect 1960 officers at a meeting next week, said Robert F. Merritt, chamber secretary-manager.

Incumbent officers are Lee Wise, president; Edwards, vice president, and Jack J. Friddle, treasurer.

Leita M. Grant Of Fairfax Dies

Mrs. Leita M. Grant, a resident of Fairfax for two years, died yesterday at a local hospital. She was 72.

A native of Kansas, Mrs. Grant is survived by her husband, George R. Grant, retired painter of 54 Willow avenue, Fairfax; a son, Lee R. Dolson of Lakewood; and a sister, Mamie Hayes of Reedsport, Ore.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Harry Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment will be at Mt. Tamalpais Memorial Park, San Rafael.

Accident Victim Fair

Walter Lee Hale, 40-year-old catering service operator of 215 Mark Twain avenue, San Rafael, who was severely injured Sunday in two separate predawn highway collisions, today was reported still in "fair" condition at Marin General Hospital.

in the lungs, according to information reaching S. J. (Lefty) Sturiale, from whose Marinship fishing pier the Southerly was operating.

An employee of Sturiale said he believed Carpenter and Miller were in their first season as commercial fishermen. They have been fishing out of Sausalito for about six months, he reported. They fished salmon for Sturiale.

Then, Monday morning, they set out to fish for bottom fishling cod and rock cod. These are in especial demand now because commercial crab fishermen want the bones and heads, after the meat is fileted off, with which to bait their crab traps for opening of the season.

The Southerly operators apparently anchored off the Farallones overnight and set out again yesterday morning.

John O. Hansen, recently appointed police commissioner, reported progress toward formation of a police department in the community services district. He said he has scheduled a meeting with Sheriff Louis Mountanos.

The board received a request from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for permission to gain a right of way to install gas lines between Las Gallinas and Las Pavadas on Manuel Freitas Parkway. General manager Jack Brandon was authorized to have an agreement prepared with the approval of E. Warren McGuire of the county counsel's office.

Fairfax Recreation Secretary Resigns

Mrs. Marian Kelley, secretary of the Fairfax Recreation Commission, handed her resignation to the commission at its meeting last night.

Mrs. Kelley said she is moving to San Anselmo. Commission chairman Ralph E. Ford said Mayor Edward A. Smith will look into suggesting some names for her replacement. He will then report to the commission, Ford said.

OBITUARIES

Death Takes Sausalito Woman, 91

Mrs. Mary Hays Hartwell, 91, daughter of a founder of a Sausalito distillery, died yesterday at a local rest home after long illness.

A past president of the Sausalito Women's Club, Mrs. Hartwell made her home until three years ago with her sister, Mrs. Katherine Goodale, at 505 Bridgeway, Sausalito. Mrs. Goodale formerly operated the Sea Spray Restaurant at the same address.

Mrs. Hartwell was a daughter of John Mason, founder of the old John Mason Malt Whisky Distilling Co. That went out of business with the advent of prohibition. Mason came to San Francisco in 1850 from Ireland. Mrs. Hartwell was born in San Francisco in 1868.

She and her husband, the late Thomas Dwight Hartwell, who was in the lumber business in San Francisco, first moved to Sausalito in 1894. The family lived there for seven years, then in Oakland for 15 years. They then returned to Sausalito and Mrs. Hartwell, whose husband died in 1931, had lived there until her confinement in a rest home.

In addition to her sister in Marin, she leaves two sons and a daughter, Benjamin H. Hartwell, a Mill Valley policeman, Mason Hartwell of Berkeley, and Mrs. Florence Katherine Wilson of San Francisco. She also is survived by 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the chapel of Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley. Burial will be private.

Autopsy Planned To Fix Cause Of Woman's Death

An autopsy will be performed by the Marin County coroner to determine the precise cause of death of Mrs. May Dishman Flower, 61, of Novato, who died Monday at a local hospital after abdominal surgery.

Mrs. Flower suffered a broken knee and a broken heel in a two-car accident Oct. 12. Her husband, Alan S. Flower of 1676 Hill avenue, Novato, a retired civilian employee of the Navy, was also hurt.

Mrs. Flower's death was linked with the accident by a statement of her physician, Dr. Edward S. Vanderhoof of San Rafael, that there was "indirect connection" between the operation and car crash.

The California Highway Patrol placed a drunken driving felony charge against T/Sgt. William A. Sleigh Jr., 29, of San Francisco, as a result of the crash. His car had been attempting to cross U.S. 101 near the Club Rio when struck by a car driven by Richard L. Beale, 48, of 314 Holly avenue, Novato, in which Mr. and Mrs. Flowers were passengers.

Result of the autopsy will establish whether the fatality should be classed as a traffic death, said Capt. T. F. Parnow of the highway patrol.

Funeral services for Mrs. Flower will be held at 1:45 p.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

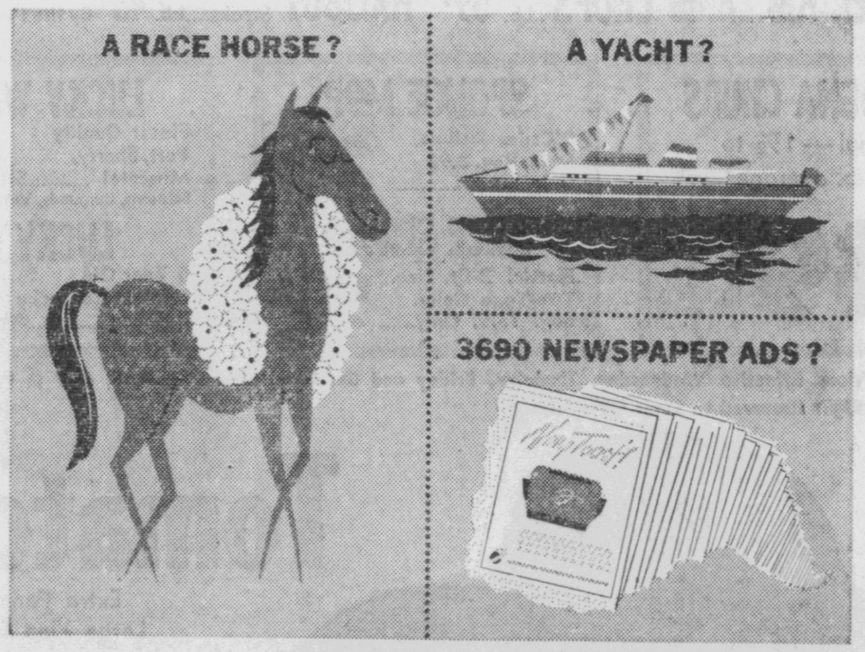
What could you buy for the annual cost of a TV drama... on 3 stations in Michigan?



ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: YOU'D BE BETTER OFF WITH THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. That is, if you are an advertiser. For example, a typical hour drama costs $256,223 a year to run on three stations in Michigan. This would buy a schedule of 26,844 lines a year in all 55 Michigan dailies with a total circulation of 2,390,000. That's 3690 ads the same size as the one you're reading right now! No wonder advertisers invest more money in the daily newspaper than in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined!

PLEASANT DUTY FOR NEW OFFICIAL

David Menary Jr., just appointed Monday night to the San Rafael City Council, shelled out for a ticket yesterday at the San Rafael police station — a ticket to the policemen's ball on Saturday night, that is. Making the "pinch" was Mrs. Joanne Walsh, police matron. The ball, to benefit widows and orphans of San Rafael police, will be held at Bermuda Palms, with dancing starting at 9 p.m. and continuing until 1 p.m. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mill Valley District To Issue School Booklet

"Blueprint for Learning," a Mill Valley School District booklet, will be published this week, Supt. G. R. McConnell said today.

The "blueprint" tells what the Mill Valley schools are doing for education of children.

McConnell said he has been working on the publication for about three months. Need for it was shown by a public opinion poll conducted in the district last spring, he reported.

"Blueprint for Learning" is somewhat technical in its approach, and probably will not reach the bulk of the parent population in its present form.

One thousand copies are being run off on a multigraph machine at the county superintendent of schools' office in San Rafael this week. Copies will be presented the faculty and members of the school board Monday, said McConnell.

Copies also will be distributed to other educators throughout the county, and to newspapers. The rest will be turned over to a pilot group being formed within the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Council.

McConnell said this group undoubtedly will form study sections to study each phase of "Blueprint for Learning," and that the material from each study section will be written up for dissemination to parents.

He said any parent is invited to join the study groups.

Final reports, in easy-to-understand form, are to be ready in January, he said.

Among the first things set forth in the publication, which was given a brief pre-publication peek by members of the press, are what the school board considers the seven basic things for the schools to teach and accomplish.

They are: the fundamental subjects, instruction of high quality, intellectual development, differences among children, good citizenship, appreciatoin of the arts, community support.

Two pages of the booklet are devoted to stating the aims and methods of teaching in the Mill Valley system. Other pages are devoted to a statement of fundamental subjects, giving examples of what is done in various subjects in kindergarten through eighth grade.

KINDERGARTEN

For example, in kindergarten children are taught to count children and objects; in the first grade, to count by ones and tens, and in the seventh grade, to divide with three-place divisors.

The booklet also states the district policy on homework, the grading system and standards of promotion. There are also a few words on discipline in the areas of detention, suspension and expulsion.

FINANCING

There is also a treatment of school finances, which shows that the district receives 47 per cent of its income from the district through local taxes, 47 per cent from the state through the aid program, two per cent federal support, and four per cent from reserves carried over from previous years.

The value of the publication, McConnell said, will lie in its use by the parents and their interest in it.

Loma Verde Development Plans Shown

Plans and an artist's sketch of a proposed recreation center, hotel and apartment buildings which will adjoin Loma Verde were shown to the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. Tuesday night by Gordon Walker, representative of the Trousdale Co., developers of the subdivision.

The county planning commission has approved the necessary zoning for the buildings, Walker said. The hotel and recreation center would be at the end of San Jose boulevard, north of the golf club, and would include a swimming pool, tennis courts and putting greens.

The two-story, garden-type apartments are scheduled to be constructed beyond the hotel.

Walker also discussed the possibility of commercial development in Loma Verde and said construction of a small shopping center is expected to begin early next year.

It was also announced that the Trousdale Co. and Cal-Wide, Inc., have offered a sterling silver chafing dish as a prize for the best decorated Loma Verde home during the Christmas season. The Homeowners Association also offers a plaque which rotates from year to year among the prizewinners. Judges of this year's decorations will be Walker, Warren Tracy and Mrs. Frank McGill.

Novato Boy Describes His Trip To Norway

Ted Kruth, Novato High School senior, yesterday reviewed his recent trip to Norway for the Novato Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon meeting at Cloud Five.

The American Field Service exchange student, who spent last summer with two Norwegian families, illustrated his talk with color slides he shot during his stay abroad. Novato Kiwanians assisted in financing his trip.

SAILORS' WIVES, KIDS, FIANCEES TO GET TASTE OF LIFE AT SEA

ALAMEDA (AP) — The Giant Navy carrier Ranger will sail out the Golden Gate Friday with an extra "crew" aboard — 2,000 wives, kids and fiancees of the Ranger's men.

"I think the women created the idea . . . the men didn't," said a Ranger spokesman.

He said the Navy scheduled the day-long cruise so the wives and families of the regular crew would "more or less go right to their man's working stations . . . so they can see what he talks about when he's home."

The Navy planned to stage a real show for the girls and kids. On tap are actual aircraft launchings and landings, plus low altitude aircraft refueling operations, simulated missile attacks and loft and glide bombing runs.

Invitations sent to the dependents by the Ranger's skipper, Capt. Noel Gayler, "ordered" them to "proceed from their ordinary place of duty" (the kitchen sink) to the Ranger.

Supervisors Balk At Paying For Old Ties

A railway tie horse-trade was proposed to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad wrote, asking the county to remit $2,200 the supervisors had appropriated for removal of tracks of the former Almonte branch on a three-way deal involving the county, Mill Valley and Tamalpais Union High School District.

Only catch was that there was a prudent housewife present in a key position, namely Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, herself a Mill Valley resident who had been past the track removal operation and noted the railroad selling ties to persons in need of firewood, garden shoring-up and such.

"I don't think we should pay that $2,200 without some statement as to what they got for the ties," said Mrs. Schultz.

Other supervisors found merit in this. The matter was referred to Leland H. Jordan, county counsel, and Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, for investigation as to how much financial juice can be squeezed out of a railroad tie.

Owners Of Barges Win Sewer Delay

The Sausalito City Council last night voted 4-1 to allow the Byron Edwardses a delay in constructing sewer lines to their two illegally-parked barges.

The barges, parked on an underwater street and subject of a court order in which the Edwardes were ordered to show why they should not comply with the law, have been the center of controversy for several years. There are two barges and the Edwards rent apartments in them.

COURT ORDER OBTAINED

City Atty. John B. Ehlen told the council that he, acting according to their instruction, had obtained a court order that the Edwardes either comply to show the court cause why they should not. The matter is scheduled for superior court Nov. 16.

The Edwardes had received permission to hold off moving the barges until they could install a temporary sewer hookup. They were to move the barges off city streets and install a permanent hookup later.

Edwards said that, after a council meeting in August in which the council gave him two weeks to start work, he applied for a permit to install a sewer line. He said he made the application Sept. 1, but the city offices did not grant him a permit until Sept. 30.

HAD SPENT $3,500

"We then proceded as fast as possible, and to date I've spent $3,500," Edwards said.

"I've got an order," Ehlen said, "that would lead to having the barges vacated until they are hooked up. You send me into action, then pull the rug out from under me. Now there is just a lot of talk in the clouds."

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said he wanted the order delayed until two days after the first meeting of the council in December, by which time the Edwardes are to have the temporary connection installed. His motion won the support of all councilmen except George E. Keeney. Mayor Howard Sievers voted for the delay somewhat reluctantly.

DRAGGING FOR YEARS

Edwards said he hoped he could get his plumber to work on the project. Councilmen said they hoped so, too, in view of the fact the matter had been dragging for several years.

When Ehrlich first proposed the deal, Sievers reminded him of Ehlen's court order. Alexis Tellist, latest attorney for the Edwardes, said taking a piece of paper to court wasn't going to make them dig.

Ehrlich asked Ehlen if the court matter could be continued. Ehlen said it could if the Edwardes would allow him to serve new papers. Mrs. Edwards shouted "no" from the rear of the council room.

The council indicated it wanted the paper served. Ehlen then left the council chambers by a rear door, walked through the adjoining city offices to the street and then in the front door of the chamber, approaching the Edwardes from the rear.

Ehlen then walked to the council table and said, "I would like the records to show that the papers were served and were thrown on the floor by Mrs. Edwards." Her husband retrieved the papers.

DAVID L. GREESON
Two suspects; once officer

HE NABBED SUSPECTS

Deputy Sheriff Picked As Top Public Servant

For a lone police officer, to stop a criminal late at night is always hazardous business. And when there are two men suspected of armed robbery in the other car, the task becomes even more dangerous.

Sheriff's Deputy David L. Greeson turned the trick singlehandedly on Highway 101 last week to win recognition as "Public Servant of the Month."

The winner is picked each month from among candidates submitted by various law enforcement and fire departments. The president of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn., and representatives of radio station KTIM and the Independent-Journal get together each month to select the outstanding safety officer.

On the night of Oct. 29 two gunmen held up a Santa Rosa market and escaped. Sonoma officials radioed a description of the getaway car and the fact that the men could be dangerous.

At Greenbrae, Deputy Greeson, on one-man patrol, spotted a car answering the description and immediately gave chase. He pulled the car off the highway near the H. Koch and Sons luggage factory in Corte Madera.

Drawing his revolver, Greeson approached the car and ordered one man outside. After searching him for weapons, the officer ordered him to lie against the hood of the car. Then he repeated the process with the second suspect. A fellow officer arrived to help Greeson handcuff the two men and pack them off to jail.

Ike Blames Extremists For Riots In Panama

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, in the wake of anti-American riots in Panama, today called on every civilized government in Latin America to take steps to maintain law and order.

The President told his news conference that excitable extremists in Panama and other Latin American countries were behind the anti-American mob actions.

He then said he hoped every civilized government in the region, including Panama, would take steps to make certain that law and order prevail.

PUZZLED AT OUTBREAKS

Eisenhower said he was puzzled over anti-American outbreaks such as those which have taken place in Cuba, Panama and elsewhere.

The latest disturbing incident was the stone-throwing, flag-tearing attack on the U. S. Embassy in Panama yesterday. (See story on page 2.)

The President said no administration, suported by Congress, has ever made greater efforts to develop better understanding with Latin America than has his. He added that, by and large, he thought his administration has had considerable success.

FAVORS ANOTHER CANAL

The President disclosed, in response to a question, that he strongly favors building another canal across the land neck connecting North and South America. But he made it clear that this was not a result of Panamanian actions against the United States, which he dismissed simply as an incident.

He said that construction of another canal was a subject which would require long and detailed study and he didn't know what the result would be.

Other highlights of the President's news conference:

ON QUIZ SHOWS

1. He compared the results of the congressional investigation into rigged television quiz shows with the 1919 baseball scandal involving the Chicago Black Sox. Eisenhower said he felt no one in the basic television industry, from network executives and producers down through the actors, would be satisfied until the whole mess is cleaned up.

2. He said he expected a report from the Justice Department before the end of the year on what, if anything, the executive branch should do to prevent repetition of the TV rigged shows.

3. He said he and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, at their recent White House meeting, talked politics all across the board, but he did not recall that they came to any conclusions. He said most of their talk, however, involved civil defense.

4. Eisenhower declined comment on the steel strike on grounds the dispute is still before the Supreme Court. The tribunal is expected to rule either this week or early next week.

BOARD ROUNDUP

Open Burning In Marin Held To Minimum

Open burning in Marin County's unincorporated areas has "been reduced to a bare minimum," County Administrator Donald A. Jensen reported to the board of supervisors yesterday after consultation with County Fire Chief Charles Reilley.

The question came up because of a letter of inquiry from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. Jensen's suggested answers were approved by the board for transmittal to the district.

He said the present arrangement for enforcement of regulation 1, pertaining to such burning, is "working very effectively" with excellent cooperation between county fire department and the district.

"There are practically no violations," said the letter.

The board voted to apply to the federal government for priority to purchase a piece of surplus property described as "on a high promontory above the ocean, uniquely suited for use as a roadside rest-overlook" with views of Bolinas, Mt. Tamalpais, and San Francisco whose center by road is but 15 miles distant. The two and one-quarter acre piece just off the Coast highway is one-half mile north of Muir Beach and could park 140 cars.

The board also:

1. Authorized an agreement with Bala and Standgaard, civil engineers, to prepare drawings and specifications for dredging the Saucelito Canal and give extra assistance to the county planning commission at a total cost not to exceed $10,000.

2. Approved rezoning for Northbridge Subdivision 3 in Santa Venetia and Gallinas Village, from agriculture to one-family residential use.

3. On request of County Administrator Jensen, approved a rate of $18 to $20 per day for a registered nurse at the county hospital and farm.

Supervisors Turn Down Plea For Peace Board

Peace is usually so precious to Marin County's board of supervisors that they'll gladly fight for it.

But when somebody put up a dollar for peace yesterday they sent it back.

The would-be donor was Joseph Q. Riznik, who on Oct. 20 had sent a letter requesting creation by the supervisors of a Marin County Peace Preparedness Commission and attaching his check for $1.

Functions of the new group, it was brought out in discussion between Riznik and County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, would include finding answers to such problems as those Marin County would face if Hamilton Air Force shut down.

The commission would also study overall such large issues as would arise if there were total disarmament and stoppage of all outlays for national defense, and work out a program for solving them, Jensen reported. "There is no such commission now in existence in the United States at any level of government," he said. "Mr. Riznik is asking the board of supervisors of Marin County to take the initiative and leadership in this matter."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman moved to return Riznik's check and the board so voted.

Disaster Plan Approved By County Board

A "Marin County disaster plan," placed before the Marin County Board of Supervisors by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, in accordance with a state directive, was speedily approved by the board yesterday.

To s[ave] wear and tear on their m[imeo]graphing machines, five cities [in]tegrated" with the county on this matter. So they won't have to print similar 20-page books with maps.

Those who went along with the county were San Rafael, Fairfax, Ross, Belvedere and Corte Madera. "Non-integrated" were Sausalito, Mill Valley, Larkspur and San Anselmo.

Jensen explained that the state last spring promulgated a new state disaster [o]peration plan and "required that each county or city issue a new operation plan for its local area which will follow the state plan."

A letter of promulgation authorized by the supervisors and signed by Walter R. Castro, chairman, said the plan "encompasses action to be taken before and during both natural and war-caused disasters and will take effect immediately upon the declaration of a state of extreme emergency or any state of disaster."

Details of the plan have already been publicized from time to time.

Start Delayed On Greenbrae Yacht Harbor

Start of work on Greenbrae Yacht Harbor, proposed 300-berth basin on Corte Madera Creek, east of Highway 101, has been temporarily delayed, one of the developers said today.

Albert von der Werth Sr. of Greenbrae said the harbor corporation is awaiting receipt of its charter from the state corporation commission.

"Once we get the charter, we will let contracts for dredging and pile driving," he said. "We expect it any day now."

Late last month, von der Werth announced that contracts for initial work on the harbor would be awarded this week.

Other directors of Greenbrae Yacht Harbor, Inc., capitalized at $250,000, are Eric Barnett of Sausalito, R. A. Morris of Kentfield and Victor O. Lund of San Francisco.

Clara Barton, first American president of the Red Cross, was a school teacher who, it is believed, was the first woman to be employed in a United States governmental department.

Musician Locals Asked To Merge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state attorney general's office has asked this city's two racially segregated Musicians Union local to merge "immediately."

Locals 6 for white musicians and Negro Local 669 have received identical letters bearing the request and signed by Asst. Atty. Gen. Franklin H. Williams, it was disclosed yesterday.

Williams asked for "immediate action to bring about the equitable amalgamation" of the two locals.

Views Conflict On School Chiefs' Pay

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A legislative committee today studied whether salaries and manpower of school districts should be more tightly controlled by the state.

Two key questions posed by the committee to more than a dozen witnesses during a two-day hearing were:

What are reasonable and proper salaries for school administrators?

SOME DEFINITE VIEWS

Nobody gave a dollars and cents answer to the questions, although most of the witnesses had definite views that school administrators and teachers were getting either too much or too little money.

Donald K. Henry, representing the 11,000-member California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO), said there is "definitely excessive administration in schools" of the state.

He added that "many administrators are overpaid" while classroom teachers are underpaid, and at the same time the school leaders are doing some "empire building."

But the California Teachers Association took the opposite view.

NEED MORE HELP

Executive Secretary Arthur F. Corey told the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Governmental Administration that school administrators not only need more money but also more help.

He urged a continuation of local control through school boards, but admitted that so long as this is practiced "it will be extremely difficult to achieve uniformity" in salaries.

Corey denied charges that school administrators salaries are fixed by whim and caprice. He said a preliminary study by his association showed school districts generally have written policies for establishing administrative salaries.

The committee, headed by state Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville), said in a preliminary report that a number of school administrators receive salaries of more than $25,000 a year while heads of other schools with the same average daily attendance receive much less money.

Arnold said after the hearing that the committee felt it had heard enough evidence to establish that there is a "problem" with school adminstrator salaries.

However, he pointed out that no one offered a solution and charged that the state Department of Education is taking an "ostrich stand that the matter is not in their jurisdiction."

Less Emphasis On Big Mental Hospitals Seen

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More emphasis on training, research and out-patient care—and less on big state hospitals—is proposed in the new budget requests of the state Mental Hygiene Department.

Dr. Daniel Blain, director of mental hygiene, last night requested $129,535,260 for the year starting July 1. That's 9½ million dollars more than the final budget for the current year.

Blain told a Finance Department budget hearing that California should not try to attack mental illness through "just beds, beds, beds."

Other states have made the "fatal mistake" of just increasing the number of hospital beds to cope with rising caseloads, he said.

UPPED BY BANK—Gerald E. Mosher of 40 Gustafson court, Novato, has been appointed an assistant cashier at Crocker-Anglo National Bank's administrative headquarters in San Francisco. He formerly was assistant field representative in the cashier's department.

Arkansas is known as "The Bear State" and Kansas as "The Sunflower State."

LONG-AWAITED PROJECT

Ground Broken For Novato Shop Center

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Novato Plaza Shopping Center at Seventh and Grant avenue were scheduled for 3 p. m. today.

Slated to participate in ceremonies marking the start of construction of the long-awaited development were county Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William A. Gnoss, officials of the Novato Chamber of Commerce and representatives of Hoytt Enterprises, developers and the A. G. Raisch Co., contractors.

First buildings to rise on the site east of the new Seventh street extension will be a Standard Oil Co. service station and a Lee Brothers market, announced Larry Jones, controller for Hoytt Enterprises. Also planned for an early start is a third structure to house a national chain variety store, with which negotiations are now underway, he said.

Developer Gerald G. Hoytt said the 25-acre site eventually will contain 250,000 square feet of buildings and include nationally known chain tenants as well as local merchants.

It will be the largest commercial development to date in the Novato area, he said.

The development of the center also includes the extension of Seventh street from Grant avenue to Tamalpais avenue at Novato boulevard. A bridge is to be constructed across Novato Creek.

Mill Valley Store To Be Operated At Two Locations

Mill Valley artists Stephen Dimitroff and Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, have announced division of their art business in order to "keep people who want frames from falling over those who want pencils."

The Dimitroffs will still maintain their Dimitroff's picture framing shop at 64 Throckmorton avenue. Business there will be confined to picture framing and selling of prints.

They announced concentration of all other supplies at a shop called simply the Art Store at 11 E. Blithedale avenue, under managership of Mrs. Louise Dodge.

Mrs. Dodge said the art shop will feature new ideas in art including mosaics and Japanese painting sets, as well as drafting equipment, all supplies for oil painting, water colors, charcoal papers, plaster cast figures for drawing, pencils, sketchbooks and copper figures for enamel jewelry.

Monte Maria CSD Board Asks Costs Of Landscaping

Monte Maria Community Services District board has set for Saturday, a meeting with a representative of Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., paving and cement contractors, to discuss estimated costs of paving and installing planter boxes in the subdivision's three "islands."

The planter boxes are a possible alternative to completely landscaping the islands, utilizing existing trees. The planters would be built of brown building blocks and "zigzagged," according to E. Donald King, president of the district board.

"Paving and planting would mean a greater initial outlay of money," King said, "but would definitely lower maintenance costs over the long haul."

A special meeting of the district board was to be called next week, King said, for a final decision.

In Navy Maneuvers

Two San Rafael Navy men are participating in a large fleet training exercise off the Southern California coast. They are Clifford L. Counter, aviation structural mechanic third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd I. Counter of 18 Glenn avenue, who is with Fighter Squadron 14, and Richard E. Turner, radarman seaman apprentice of 21 Roberts avenue, who is aboard the heavy cruiser Los Angeles.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Strange Goings-On In District Attorney's Office

It strikes us there have been some strange goings on in the district attorney's office in recent months.

We first took notice when the district attorney galloped off in a cloud of newspaper headlines to chase after the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. He announced to the press that he was studying the possibility of prosecuting leaders of the group for some little-known and vague charge called "common barratry." The district attorney's actions in this instance didn't progress much beyond the press conference stage, which isn't exactly part of the judicial process.

And we recall that Dist. Atty. Weissich issued a new barrage of statements to the press in the wake of actor Sterling Hayden's departure from Sausalito aboard his yacht bound for the South Seas. Hayden took his four children with him, disregarding a court order forbidding him from taking them out of the country. Weissich kicked up quite a newspaper publicity storm about "conspiracy" by Hayden and others to circumvent the court order.

Attorneys mostly laughed up their sleeves at this since the accused apparently hadn't violated any law; they only ignored the order of a Southern California court. If the court wished it might cite them for contempt, but that was the Southern California court's business, not the business of the district attorney of Marin County.

Then came the big crackdown on parents of juvenile offenders. The D.A.'s office hauled in a couple of parents.

The parents involved quickly established that the misdeeds of their offspring had been committed over their objections and despite their preventive efforts. As courthouse newspaper reporters say, "that story blew up quickly." There weren't any more statements to the press about crackdowns on parents of juvenile offenders.

No less august a body than the appellate court pulled the rug out from under another much publicized activity of Dist. Atty. Weissich. The court tossed out his case charging conspiracy against certain individuals for smuggling a Chessman manuscript out of San Quentin. The appellate court found, if we understand legal terminology correctly, that no established law had been violated; only the orders of the prison warden. Weissich subsequently told the press he might press an appeal of the appellate court action. So far all he has done is issue that press statement.

This newspaper was among those who supported Weissich's candidacy for reelection.

We think he owes an explanation to his supporters for some of the strange goings-on since he was reelected.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

An Unusually Happy Experience

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It seems as though everyone in Mill Valley must read the Independent-Journal — for almost every place I go—in the grocery, store, pet shop, washerette, 5 and 10, service station—someone mentions having read the article about me and my pets in your Saturday Magazine written by Randall Gould.

Many have said how much they enjoyed it, how well written it was, and have asked how the photographer ever managed to get such a good shot of a person and four animals.

And I want to express my thanks to you, to Randall Gould and Dick Steinheimer for giving me and my pets such a delightful boost in our own community. It has been an unusually happy experience.

Sincerely,
ELOISE KEELER

Job Well Done By Dedicated Group

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A word of thanks is in order for the entire staff of Tamalpais Union High School District for the excellent organization of "College Night" held recently at Redwood High School.

The untiring efforts of the school administration and the faculty members as well, made it possible for juniors and seniors from Tamalpais, Redwood and Drake to meet with representatives of colleges from all sections of the United States in order that questions concerning the future education of these young people might be answered.

The college representatives, parents and the students are praising College Night and feel that it was most successful; another job well done by our dedicated educators.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

One New York high school senior wrote to England to settle a discussion about a birthday.

While preparing a term paper, she found three different dates for the birth of England's poet laureate, John Masefield. She decided the best way to clear up the problem would be to write to Mr. Masefield himself.

He answered her query with a handwritten note stating that he was born on June 1, 1878.

Most people are interested in the truth, but too often they settle for half-truths and second-hand information, when with a little added effort they can get "the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

All of us could imitate the wisdom and initiative of this teenager who went to the right source for correct information. It is even easier for us to go to God Who is the divine Source of all truth and goodness. We should not settle for anything less.

"I am the way, and the truth and the life." (John (14:6)

Draw me to You, O God, that I may be better able to distinguish truth from error.

COMPROMISE TOMORROW

House May Break School Aid Impasse

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The House general education subcommittee tomorrow will try to get together on a school construction bill President Eisenhower would sign.

The meeting will be the first formal effort by the House since Congress adjourned to work out a compromise bill. House liberal Democrats spent the 1959 Session of Congress pushing a broad measure calling for $4.4 billion in federal grants over four years to build schools and raise teachers' salaries. This so-called Murray-Metcalf bill bogged down in the House Rules Committee.

The upcoming compromise session finds the nucleus of a citizen's committee waiting anxiously in the wings. Subcommittee agreement tomorrow would be its cue to beat the drums for the compromise school bill.

GEORGE J. HECHT, president and publisher of Parents Magazine, heads this citizens' committee. He helped trigger the compromise meeting itself through discussion with Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D,W.Va.), chairman of the general education subcommittee, and Carroll D. Kearns (R.Pa.), ranking Republican on the parent House education and labor committee.

Hecht said the citizens' committee is not formally organized. "We are waiting to see if the subcommittee agrees on a bill first," he said. "I am very optimistic."

Besides Hecht, leaders of the citizens' group are Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, and former Sen. William Benton (D,Conn.).

THE JOB OF the House subcommittee is to agree on a school bill President Eisenhower would not veto. His aides have stressed that this means a bill calling for subsidies over 25 to 30 years to help school districts pay off construction bonds. President Eisenhower, aides say, cannot be talked into any other type of bill.

When the Eisenhower proposal was unveiled early in 1959, liberal Democrats tabbed it a "bankers' bill" and let it go at that. But with the growing conviction that it is the Eisenhower bill in 1960 or nothing, these same Democrats appear willing to give the proposal a second look.

The staff of the House general education subcommittee has put together a draft bill containing several concessions from the Eisenhower administration. These concessions include letting communities, as well as states which often are dominated in the legislatures by rural interests, raise the required matching funds.

Another concession is abolishment of the Eisenhower administration's formula to determine if states were doing all they could on their own to build schools. Also, states which could not float any more bonds because of their debt limit would get federal matching grants for two years.

THE DECLINE in school bond sales gives impetus to efforts to get some kind of federal help to build schools. Figures prepared by the U.S. Office of Education show that for the nation as a whole, elementary and high school bond sales dipped from $2.4 billion in fiscal 1958 to $1.9 billion in fiscal 1959.

For the Far West region, bond sales amounted to $432,761,000 in fiscal 1958 and $395,154,000 in fiscal 1959, with the loss attributable to bond sales in Washington state.

This is the five-year pattern of school bond sales for California from fiscal 1955 through fiscal 1959: $182,191,000, $245,318,000, $283,538,000, $333,192,000, $333,431,000.

10 YEARS AGO

A world-touring Swedish dentist, Dr. Sten Wahlin, won distinction as first person among eight million to refuse to pay the Golden Gate Bridge toll charge. He refused to pay 50 cents on the ground that he had driven onto the bridge by mistake, looking for the Cliff House. In San Rafael he paid a $5.50 fine in police court and said he wished now to pay the toll and mail 50 cents "because I never tried to cheat anybody."

Picturesque, Inhuman Rickshaw Gradually Disappearing In Asia

By HARRY BRADSHEER
For Hal Boyle

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — The rickshaw is declining and slowly disappearing.

In some places this form of one human pulling another is losing the economic competition to mechanical means of transport. In other places it is being banned by governments.

Rickshaws come in two basic forms. The original, which supposedly was invented by a Christian missionary in Japan during the last century, consists of a seat for two over light wheels pulled by a man trotting between long poles. Variations in Himalayan mountain resorts use four or five men to push, pull, or hold back going downhill.

In most cities there is no fixed schedule by which the rickshaw man is paid. Normally, he gets about 5 cents a mile.

Rickshaws have always been used by the Asians themselves. But they remain in the eyes of national leaders a symbol of Western exploitation of the Easterner. In the wave of freedom movements after World War II there was a demand to abolish this importation of colonialism.

In countries like Indonesia the movement got as far as substituting bicycle rickshaws for some of the runner type.

But most rickshaw pullers could not find other jobs.

Some cities, like New Delhi, India, adopted the gradual system of abolition of refusing to license new rickshaw pullers. Only the tired old men still ply the trade.

KARACHI MOVED the other direction in 1948. Horse-drawn carts, called gharries or victorias, were the basic form of cheap transportation when Karachi was a small provincial capital. There were no rickshaws because this is on the Western fringe of the rickshaw zone.

When Karachi became the boom-town capital of Pakistan, more cheap transportation was needed. Bicycle rickshaws were introduced. Now there are about 15,000.

THEY WILL BE banned April 1. Pakistan said its decision was "guided by expert opinion of health and social welfare authorities that rickshaw pulling is inhuman and injurious to the health of the pullers."

Nine agencies of Marin County's Community Chest were to benefit from a Red Feather campaign for $107,700. San Rafael had a quota of $33,000. Dillion Beach's quota was $150. Slips of paper on bus seats reminded riders that "Marin's Problems Don't Commute."

If San Rafael "is to be worthy of its rightful place as a trading center for Marin — a county destined to have an eventual population of perhaps 200,000" — there must be a solution of the auto traffice and parking problems, declared the Independent-Journal editorially.

Flying In General's Plane Is Like In Airliner Except Without Girls

Not so many days ago I climbed aboard a trim, twin-engine C-54 and hopped down to San Diego for the day, the occasion being the Hamilton Defenders football game against the Southland's Marine Recruit Depot.

I am a guest of Maj. General Hugh A. Parker, who flies about in the plane through the courtesy of Uncle Sam, so long as he holds down his job as head man of the Western Air Defense Force.

The General and I do not exactly cut up old touches en route like a pair of old fraternity brothers.

For one thing, genuine generals are similar to the Cabots of Boston and a notch above this sort of thing. For another thing, he is sitting up front in the driver's seat minding the ignition switches, while I am in the back room with the boys — among them Dave Rentschler, former University of Michigan end, now with the flyboys and nursing a broken ankle from the Hamilton-Moffat game.

ONLY REFINEMENTS the general's plane lacks that TWA has are the picturesque folders in the pockets of the seat in front of you.

And girls.

The food was excellent, the coffee the best and Staff Sgt. Dennis Ross, the general's flight clerk, was most efficient and considerate.

But Sergeant Ross does lack that certain something so apparent in a petite, sloe-eyed stewardess with whom I once developed quite a fascinating relationship between Omaha and Great Falls, Wyo.

IF THE GENERAL ever needs a reference for a pilot's job, I would be more than happy to write a glowing account of how he sat the big bird down on the runways without so much as a nudge. Of course, his co-pilot and aide Capt. John Vesowate may have been steering the contraption at the time, but I am assuming the general was masterminding the operation.

On our arrival at Lindbergh Field, I was more than pleased to find that I, as a V.I.P. (press representative), was met by a staff car — with driver — to take me to the game and return me to the plane when it was time to wend homeward.

On the trip to and from the field, I haven't saluted so much since my days as a supply sergeant with the 115th Tennessee Field Artillery when I rolled with the caissons with an upturned campaign hat and a canteen full of snakebite remedy.

ON THE OFF-CHANCE that I might be an officer and a gentleman disguised as a civilian, the Marine MP's at each and every gate gave me the old spit-and-polish high sign, shoulders back and toes turned out at a 45 degree angle.

To return their courtesy, I saluted right back at them. Without too much snap of course, not wanting to betray myself as an ex-enlisted man.

I must say, as we left San Diego for the flight home, I was more than a little relieved to hear the general announce via radio to flight control, that we had six and one-half hours of fuel for the two and one-half hour flight to Hamilton.

I AM SURE IT is easily possible for a plane to wander, in a dazed condition, for hours in the smog of South Los Angeles, Cucamonga and Watts.

The smog, incidentally, was extra thick. And not only from the forest fire raging nearby.

Rockefeller Faces Uphill Fight Unless He Can Find An Issue

Like the children in the fable of the king's invisible clothes, let's come right out and say it: Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is going after the Republican presidential nomination with both hands outstretched.

Certainly here in Washington, in light of his recent out-of-state politicking in Illinois and his imminent trek to California and Oregon, the concensus of the political writers is:

THAT, WITHOUT quite using the words, Gov. Rockefeller is visibly showing he is going to make the race. Since he is not one to do anything half-heartedly, he is getting ready to make a massive, nation-wide bid for convention delegates.

That he will have to enter the earliest presidential primary — New Hampshire in March — in order to have a fair chance of cutting down Vice President Nixon's big lead.

That a head-on collision with Nixon in a two-way contest is a virtual certainty in the same setting where Gen. Eisenhower got his first leg-up for the 1952 nomination.

IF NIXON sidesteps New Hampshire, it will be construed by many as an act of political timidity, and Nixon is not a timid politician.

There seems to me only one circumstance which could persuade Nixon to pass up a face-to-face confrontation with Rockefeller at the earliest opportunity. He could deside not to abandon his duties as active Vice President so soon to take up his role as active candidate because there would be some things which, as Candidate Nixon, he could not do as Vice President Nixon.

This, on top of the conviction of some of his advisers that the Vice President would have a possibility of defeating Rockefeller in New Hampshire as a write-in candidate without even entering his name.

I mention this not because I think the Vice President will wish to rely on it but because it will be part of the equation he will weigh in the next two months. My own guess is that if one of these two Republicans enter New Hampshire, the other is going to have to do the same.

SINCE NIXON is substantially, almost overwhelmingly, in the lead today, the logical question which arises is: What has to happen, what does Rockefeller have to do to make it a real contest?

Thus far no issue of basic policy appears to enter the Nixon - Rockefeller contest and Rockefeller does not yet have any documented case that he alone could win. In fact, the present evidence is the other way.

All this is simply to report that, as most political observers see it, Gov. Rockefeller faces a rather forbidding, uncertain, uphill fight unless he finds a major issue with which popularly to differentiate his candidacy from Nixon's and unless Nixon's shows a decline in voter strength not now visible.

Demos Make Strong Showing In Elections

Win Main Contests In Kentucky, Philadelphia

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats generally consolidated gains on state and local levels in yesterday's scattered off-year elections. In the main contests they easily retained the Kentucky governorship and the Philadelphia mayor's office.

Democratic politicians, looking for a 1960 presidential year trend, could point to a strong showing in Indiana and Connecticut municipal elections. Indiana Democrats retained control of every major city and ousted Republicans in Fort Wayne and Lafayette.

And in New Jersey Republicans not only staved off a Democratic bid to win control of the state Senate, but apparently cut the Democratic majority in the Assembly.

Failure to capture all branches of the New Jersey state government took away a talking point from backers of Gov. Robert B. Meyner, rated an outside possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination. It also killed any chance for Meyner to run for the U.S. Senate next year and turn over the governorship to a Democratic state senate president.

As usual there were a few surprises and upsets. Former Utah Gov. J. Bracken Lee made a comeback by winning election as mayor of Salt Lake City. The ultra-conservative Lee no longer counts himself a Republican. He ran as an independent against a Democrat in what was supposed to be a non-partisan election.

In Philadelphia ever-hopeful Republican Harold E. Stassen went down to a predicted defeat before incumbent Mayor Richardson Dilworth, a Democrat. The margin was overwhelming.

Democrat Bert T. Combs won a landslide victory as governor of Kentucky over Republican John Robsion Jr. Combs had had an intraparty squabble with retiring Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, but it hardly affected his smashing win.

Even in Louisville, Robsion's home grounds, Combs missed carrying the city by only 269 votes. The Democrats were assured of continuing control over the Kentucky Legislature.

Democratic victories in Indiana, continuing a swing that started four years ago, included Indianapolis, Gary, South Bend, Evansville, Terre Haute and Hammond.

In Connecticut Democrats scored three upsets and kept control of the largest cities. They won in Republican Stamford, regained control in Waterbury and took Fairfield for the first time since 1908. They also scored a repeat in Bridgeport, where Democratic incumbent Samuel Tedesco again defeated veteran Socialist Jasper McLevy.

In upstate New York Republicans wrested city halls from Democrats in Utica, Amsterdam, Canandaigua, Auburn, Ithaca, Rome, Mount Vernon, Troy and Corning.

But Democrats ousted Republicans in Oneida, Cortland and Ogdensburg.

Mississippi also elected a governor, but it was a formality. Democrat Ross R. Barnett was unopposed. The segregationist lawyer had won the real election—the Democratic runoff primary—in August.

S.F. Re-Elects Christopher To Mayor's Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christopher was reelected yesterday, defeating Assessor Russel L. Wolden in this city's traditional non-partisan election.

Wolden, a Democrat, broke tradition and challenged Christopher, a Republican, on a partisan basis. Christopher ignored that and ran on his record.

The final count from all 1,298 precincts gave Christopher 141,464 to Wolden's 90,268. In 1955, Christopher won with a vote count more than double that of his opponent, George Riley, a member of the state Board of Equalization. The count then was 158,244 to 75,824.

Two of three large bond issues passed.

Bond issues of $7,575,000 for renovating the Civic Auditorium and $1,800,000 for helping rebuild the Palace of Fine Arts received the necessary two-thirds majority.

A $2,900,000 bond issue for the proposed Ferry Park, was turned down. It would have been a key unit in the Golden Gateway redevelopment project.

Nation's Voters Blow Hot, Cold On Bond Issues

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Jersey voters yesterday approved a $66,800,000 bond issue for state aid to state-supported colleges.

But in neighboring New York, voters turned down a state amendment to allow New York City to borrow half a billion dollars for schools. The heaviest opposition was in the city itself.

New York Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner led the fight for the amendment. Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller gave it lukewarm support.

BOND VICTORIES

In Chicago and Cook County, big victories were scored for seventy-five-and-one-half million dollars in bond issues. Six issues were for city improvements. The seventh, nine-and-one-half million dollars for Cook County Hospital, was voted throughout the county.

Another New Jersey referendum was heavily defeated. This would have permitted use of surplus funds from the New Jersey turnpike to help the struggling commuter railroads, which are in financial trouble.

PET PROJECT

This proposal was a pet project of Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner, and its defeat was interpreted as a blow to his personal prestige.

In Kentucky a proposed state veterans bonus referendum was losing on the basis of incomplete returns. The bonus was to be financed by a state sales tax.

Dade County (Miami, Fla.) voters defeated a bid for the sheriff and tax assessor to break free from the metropolitan government. Three other amendments to the metro form of government also were turned down.

AMENDMENT LOSES

In the Cleveland area, voters defeated a charter amendment that would have greatly strengthened the authority of Cuyahoga County over the city and its subrubs.

Toledo, Ohio, voters rejected a plan to increase the authority of the Lucas County government over the city. They also defeated a change in the city manager government to give more power to the mayor.

Erie County, N.Y., however, voted two to one for a county charter, providing an elected chief county executive. The county embraces the city of Buffalo.

St. Louis, city and county, rejected a metropolitan district government plan.

MAY RUN AGAIN

Stassen Undismayed By Crushing Defeat

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold E. Stassen was dealt the most crushing defeat in Philadelphia Republican Party history in yesterday's mayoralty election.

Minutes after he conceded his overwhelming loss to incumbent Democrat Richard Dilworth, Stassen was telling newsmen and a television audience, "I may run for political office in the future. I am still a young man and plan to be active in politics."

Dilworth, 61, a former Marine who crashed the political scene in 1951 as a crusading district attorney, exceeded his own expectation in winning by more than 200,000 votes. He campaigned on his record as mayor of the nation's third largest city.

Stassen, former Minnesota governor, asserted he would take a brief vacation and return to further his law practice here and "to help the Republican Party rebuild and win" in his adopted state.

The 52-year-old Minnesota wonder boy—he served three terms as governor in the 1930s—said: "I'm convinced the time will come when the Republican Party will win in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania and I might be a part of it."

Stassen, who three times has tried unsuccessfully to win his party's presidential nomination, had predicted a 60,000-vote victory. However, he admitted after defeat that he knew from the start the odds were heavily against him.

Why run then?

"You don't run for office only when everything looks good," Stassen said. "If a ball team is a run or two behind, they don't leave the field. I ran to give the people an alternative program."

Stassen said he expected to be a Pennsylvania delegate to next year's Republican national convention.

Stassen, a former White House aide, last year lost in a bid for the GOP Pennsylvania gubernatorial nomination.

Father, Son Meet In Car Crash

Victim of the automobile crash is Mrs. Richard Volz, 20, of 13 Meadow way, Fairfax. She was treated at San Rafael General Hospital and released.

It was quite a coincidence for sailor John William Capley, 21, who is stationed with the Navy in San Diego. About 2:30 p.m. Monday, he was driving west on Paloma avenue in San Rafael with Mrs. Volz as passenger.

Capley told police an unidentified woman driver caused him to swerve to the right. He lost control, and his car struck a parked pickup truck owned by his father, Herbert C. Capley of 525 Easterby street, Sausalito.

The elder Capley, a painter, was working on a house on Paloma at the time. His son's car then jumped the curb and hit a tree at 309 Paloma avenue.

Mrs. Volz suffered shock and fainted after the impact. She was taken to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Drake High Contest Winner Given Radio

George Benoit, Sir Francis Drake High School junior, was given a transistor radio for submitting the best entry in a contest to rename the international friendship club.

Benoit's name of Drake Diplomats was selected as the winning name by Miles McColm and Adine Robinson, faculty members, and Michael Lopez, adviser to the club. The radio was donated by Hoy's of San Anselmo.

Language Conference

Six Sir Francis Drake High School language teachers will attend a conference Nov. 14 at Asilomar of the Foreign Language Assn. of Northern California. They are Miles McColm, Michael Lopez, Glen S. Reznor, Elizabeth A. Harper, Grace Albright, and Joseph Witherow.

ON ANNIVERSARY OF UPRISING

Priest Offers Life For Doomed Hungarian Youths

NEW YORK (AP)—A young Roman Catholic priest, who fought in the Hungarian revolution, offered his life today in exchange for the lives of 150 Hungarian teen-agers he says are awaiting execution.

Rev. Vazul Vegvary, 30, of the Holy Ascension church, Roeblin, N.J., said "those kids followed me because I am a priest" and he feels responsible for their fate.

Father Vegvary marched with 130 other Hungarian refugees who demonstrated for an hour early today outside the Park avenue headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations. The refugees marched silently with black flags and the Hungarian colors on the third anniversary of the Hungarian uprising.

Dr. Bela Fabian, chairman of the Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners, said the youngsters were sentenced to death at secret trails for their part in the revolt when they were 13 and 14 years old. He said they are to be executed as they reach 18, since Hungarian law borbids the execution of anyone under 18. Fabian said he got his information from letters smuggled from Hungary.

New Mayor Hopes Job Doesn't Last

CINCINNATI (AP) — Harry Graham was elected the first mayor of the village of Sycamore yesterday. He wants to be its last mayor, too.

Graham's platform was a pledge to seek to have the new village in Hamilton County unincorporated again.

Kali Wins Backing Without Campaign

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—One voter in Salt Lake City's municipal election yesterday didn't like either of the two candidates for mayor.

Tiburon Organization Seeking New Members

The Tiburon Property Owners Assn. will again have a table on the Belvedere boardwalk Friday evening and Saturday morning to sign up new members, according to Mrs. Wellman Farley, chairman of the membership drive, which is in its second week.

Mrs. Farley said a party to welcome new members is scheduled for Nov. 28.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Job For Van Doren?

STOCKTON (AP)—Cheer up, Charles Van Doren. There's a job waiting for you here.

Ralph Ring, manager of the Greater Stockton Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday, "A sampling of community opinion indicates Mr. Van Doren is an honest man at heart and would be most welcome in Stockton."

Until a teaching vacancy opens at College of the Pacific or at Stockton College, Ring said, Van Doren could work as industrial research manager for the chamber of commerce at the same salary he received as assistant professor of English at Columbia University—$5,500.

Iowa Lawmaker Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Steven V. Carter (D-Iowa), died early today. First stricken by cancer in 1957, he had been gradually losing ground in his battle with the disease and was under treatment in the Navy Medical Center at Bethesda, Md.

Ciro's Nightclub Sold

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ciro's nightclub, Sunset Strip watering spot that once was the hangout of filmland stars, was bought yesterday for a high bid of $352,000 in federal bankruptcy court.

Showman Frank Sennes, owner of the Moulin Rouge nightclub in Hollywood, said he plans to open Ciro's Christmas Day. The club will be renovated and operate under an entertainment policy concentrating on imported talent, said Sennes.

Jet Bomber Crashes

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A six-jet bomber carrying a crew of four crashed about 80 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico before dawn today. A Coast Guard helicopter pilot rescued one airman.

Air-sea rescue planes and Coast Guard craft searched for the other three.

Air Battle Over Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Egyptian planes fought a short air battle today at 23,000 feet over the central Negev Desert, an Israeli army spokesman said.

Four Egyptian MIGs—Soviet-jet fighters—penetrated 15 to 20 miles into Israeli air space from the Sinai Desert before being intercepted, the spokesman said.

He added that all Israeli planes returned safely to base. There was no report that any of the Egyptian planes was hit.

They All Get Into Election Act Here

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Thirty-nine citizens of the Wyandot County village of Marseilles went to the polls yesterday and 34 of them got at least one vote for some office.

There were no candidates for any of the offices.

Earl Simpson came out on top of the heap. He received 10 votes and will be the new mayor.

Criminal Insane Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—State Director of Mental Hygiene Dr. Daniel Blain has announced that his department will conduct a study on the care of the criminally insane, using patients at Atascadero State Hospital.

"In view of recent occurrences and the state of flux in thinking in this field, we are asking for a careful and thoughtful review of our policies and procedures with regard to the mentally ill person who has committed a crime," Blain said yesterday.

Anniversary For Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII today called on the faithful to "prepare for the kingdom of God on earth" despite the troubles that beset the world now.

The pope made a speech from his throne in St. Peter's Basilica after a Papal Chapter Mass celebrating the first anniversary of his coronation.

British Lift Import Bans

LONDON (UPI)—Britain gives United States businessmen an early Christmas bonus today by dropping restrictions on a "substantial list" of imports.

Board of Trade president Reginald Mauldings went before the House of Commons to announce that license restrictions will be lifted to allow Britons to buy more American automobiles, dried and canned fruits, clothes and other textiles, books, machinery, pharmaceuticals, synthetic rubber goods, photographic equipment and alcoholic beverages.

Fires Under Control

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the worst late year fire outbreaks in Northern California history was under control today after destroying more than 400 million board feet of timber and causing damage estimated at well over 10 million dollars.

Prospects of rain and snow gave mop-up crews hopes of easing their chores as they wet down smoldering fire sites from the eastern slopes of the Coast Range to the Sierra Nevada.

Circus Sells Quarters

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The 157-acre winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus has been sold for $340,000 to a real estate development firm.

A spokesman said the circus is seeking a smaller tract on which to locate its winter quarters.

Much of the equipment and many of the animals were sold last year following the change from the big tent to the present more compact format.

Jets Collide In Air

BINGHAM, Maine (AP) — Searchers in a wildnerness area of western Maine seeking wreckage of two Air Force jets which collided in the air last night said today they had found one of the three missing airmen alive.

There is still no trace of the two planes, one of which was armed with missiles.

Pill Giver Hunted

FREMONT, (AP)—The entire Fremont detective bureau searched today for a 40-year-old dentist who is accused of sickening children Halloween night.

Dr. William V. Shyne's neighbors reported yesterday that a woman entered his home, picked up his collie dog and drove away in a two-tone blue sedan.

The dentist is charged with outraging public decency and unlawful dispensation of medicine by giving at least 16 small children candy-coated purgatives. Six became briefly but violently ill.

Jurors Ignore Lynching

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP)—The April lynching of Mack Charles Parker apparently will go unsolved in the current Pearl River County grand jury investigation.

Speculation and street-corner talk in this small southeastern Mississippi farming commuuity indicates the grand jury did not consider the lynching, did not read the FBI's 378-page report of its investigation, and will not return any indictments in the grand jury report to Circuit Court.

The grand jury recessed yesterday afternoon after a day and a half of investigation of crime and conditions in the county.

More Study Of Drug Test Urged

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Further study of Nalline testing of narcotics addicts is needed before more effective narcotics laws may be written, a Senate interim committee says.

The committee, in a report to the legislature, suggested a modified hospital approach to narcotics problems and increase narcotics education in the public schools.

Chapman J. William Beard (D-El Centro) said the Nalline study was considered necessary before laws on illegal search and seizure of narcotics may be revised to allow certain narcotics to be used as evidence in criminal cases.

Marin City Tenant Council Again To Furnish Yule Tree

The tree will be placed at the Marin City Elementary School, according to Mrs. Gene Beard, secretary.

The council also heard a request from Thomas Ryan and Fred Smith, San Francisco attorneys, to open a law office in Marin City. They were referred to the Marin City Housing Authority, the only agency which can rent office space.

The council decided to meet Saturday for a cleanup session at the community center. Mrs. Beard said the locks on doors will be changed because the old ones have become unserviceable.

Lagunitas Board Meet Delayed To Thursday

A special meeting of the Lagunitas School District board, to set a proposed new tax rate, has been postponed until tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Lagunitas School.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick, clerk of the board, said today the postponement, from tonight, was at the request of Leslie Stone, board president.

Earliest settlers in Delaware were by Dutch and Swedes.

San Anselmo Cubs Slate Paper Drive

Cub Scouts of Pack 37, San Anselmo, will have a paper drive Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the Wade Thomas School area.

Residents should tie their newspapers and leave them on the curb by 8:30 a. m. Saturday for pickup. No wax papers or asphalt treated papers or bags can be used, the Cubs said.

Persons outside the district may take papers to Sohner Tree Service, 35 Ross avenue, San Anselmo. Receipts will go for pack activities.

THE TOE'S A LONELY PRO

Football practice for San Francisco 49er kicking specialist Tommy Davis borders on the lonely side. Davis much of the time goes off to one portion of the field and sharpens up his kicking toe. It's practice, practice and more practice for the former Louisiana State star and yesterday was no exception. Here he is pictured practicing by himself while teammates work out in background. Sunday the first place 49ers tackle the Rams in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Oddsmakers have rated the game a tossup. (AP Wirephoto)

Cal Not Satisfied With USC Apology

BERKELEY (UPI)—The University of California today pressed for punishment of Mike McKeever, Southern California guard they charged deliberately injured Cal halfback Steve Bates last Saturday.

California President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg last night issued a statement accusing the All-America candidate of smashing Bates in the face in an action they called "completely unnecessary and uncalled for."

The statement — which said movies and still pictures of the incident would be released to the public and shown to the presidents of the conference —said Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California, and Francis Tappan, USC vice president, had agreed to take action.

Topping, without naming McKeever, issued a statement apologizing "to the extent we are responsible" and indicating that he felt the incident was closed.

However, Greg Engelhard, California Director of Athletics called the Southern California statement "very unsatisfactory."

Bates was seriously injured in the game which Southern California won 14-7. He was hospitalized with a broken nose and cheek and several loosened teeth and will not be able to play for the rest of the season.

Kerr and Seaborg said they had viewed the films of the play taken by both schools and described it as follows:

"The pictures show that Steve Bates was lying on his back on the sideline. Two University of Southern California players were approaching him. One of them, and the close one (Al Bansavage), stopped. The other, Mike McKeever, not only continued his forward momentum but changed course toward Bates. He dived at Steve Bates with his elbow far extended, which hit Bates in the side of the face.

"It has been said that McKeever's vision was obscured. The pictures do not bear this out. It has been said that the damage was done by the weight of McKeever's body and that the broken helmet would prove this. We have examined the helmet and shown it to President Topping and Vice-President Tappan. The helmet is in no way broken. Moreover, the pictures show that McKeever's elbow smashed into the face of Bates."

Topping's statement said:

"The University of Southern California is truly sorry for this most regrettable incident . . . this as well as other incidents in the game we feel could have been avoided. To the extent we are responsible, we apologize. We will insist that our team play good, hard but clean football. The coaches are instructed to see that this policy is followed.

"All necessary actions are being taken to assure avoidance of similar occurrences."

The omission of McKeever's name from the statement and the inference drawn that a warning to the squad would be the only "necessary action" did not seem likely to satisfy the University of California.

TIRED OF TRAVEL

Joe D. Still May Quit Athletics

Shortstop Joe DeMaestri of the Kansas City Athletics yesterday reiterated his recent announcement that he is seriously thinking about retiring from baseball because "I'm getting awfully tired of traveling around."

In a telephone interview with a Kansas City reporter, DeMaestri, a resident of San Anselmo, verified his statement about retiring which was published recently in the Independent-Journal.

"I would kind of like to stay home with my family," the star shortstop announced. "I'll be 31 next Monday and I realize that I have only a couple of seasons left," he pointed out, adding, he tires more now "and I am getting to the point where I can afford to stay out of it."

The only holdover from the team that was transferred from Philadelphia to Kansas City in 1954, DeMaestri has been the Athletics' player representative in recent seasons.

DeMaestri, a graduate of Tamalpais High School, broke into the major leagues with the Chicago White Sox in 1951. He was traded to the old St. Louis Browns at the end of that season and went to the A's in a trade in October, 1952.

Last season in 118 games he batted .244, drove in 33 runs and hit six homers.

His best years were 1957 and 1958 when he led American League shortstops in fielding percentages.

GIARDELLO IN TV REMATCH WITH TIGER

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I've just got to get even with him and beat him big," Joey Giardello says of his 10-round scrap here tonight with Dick Tiger, British Empire middle champ from Nigeria.

Although Tiger won a unanimous decision from Giardello in Chicago Sept. 30, the bettors regard tonight's return bout as a tossup. The fight will be televised nationally (ABC).

"So many people seem to think I've gone back a distance," said Giardello, former Philadelphian, now of Rosedale, N. Y. "But my whole trouble's been I didn't have the ambish' I used to be loaded with."

Tiger at 30 is a year older than Giardello but he demonstrated a superior stamina in their Chicago meeting.

The Nigerian, who lives in Liverpool, England, has a record of 35 victories in 45 fights, 10 by knockouts. Giardello started his second hundred in bouts this year and has won 78, 27 by kayo.

Tam, Redwood Vie Saturday To Determine Marin Pennant

When an irresistable force such as Tam's meets an immovable object like Redwood's, something's got to give.

And that's the prospects for Saturday night when the speedy, explosive Tamalpais Indians battle the first place, unscored upon Redwood Giants in a game that will go a long way in determining the championship of the Marin County Athletic League's first football season.

Redwood, which has blanked three league foes and allowed only 31 points in its six straight victories, can sew up at least a tie for the championship with a victory. Tam must win to stay in contention.

	W	L
Redwood	3	0
Tamalpais	2	1
Marin Catholic	2	1
Novato	1	2
San Rafael	1	2
Drake	0	3

A victory by Tam and a Marin Catholic triumph over Novato in the Saturday afternoon encounter at Kentfield would throw first place into a three-way tie with only one week remaining on the schedule.

Other Marin County games this weekend are Drake at San Rafael Friday night, California School for Deaf at San Rafael Military Academy Friday afternoon and College of Marin against Shasta Friday night at Kentfield.

Saturday night's crucial game at Kentfield, to start at 8 o'clock, will feature the clash of some of Marin's best performers. For Tam it will be Ray Edwards, the county's leading scorer and ground gainer, and guard Bob Hector, Marin's top All-Northern California candidate.

S.R. Champs Upset By Redwood '5'

Coach Dick Hart's Redwood Giants knocked over San Rafael's champion Bullpups 16-12, yesterday in the Marin County Athletic League's Class C basketball program.

It was San Rafael's first loss after eight straight victories. Joe Weis tallied six points and Tod Lindner five for the Giants, but it was a great defensive effort in the second half, limiting San Rafael to one point, that provided the upset. Bret Tovani of San Rafael led all scorers with eight.

Tamalpais remained in a second place tie with Redwood, each with five wins and four losses, by downing Novato, 37-24. Charles Robinson with 14 points and Ed Green with 8 led Tamalpais.

Pro Smashes Novato Golf Links Record

Professional Jim Perrin of the Indian Valley Golf Club yesterday smashed the Novato course's 18-hole record by firing a seven-under par 64.

Perrin's sizzling round included nine birdies, seven pars and two bogeys.

"I could have had even a better round," Perrin said, "but I goofed on the 2nd and 18th holes with those bogies. I wasn't putting very well."

The former course record was 65, held jointly by Perrin, Hal Carlson and Fred Volz, Perrin said.

Clausen Leads Hole-In-One Tournament At Las Gallinas

San Rafael auto salesman Leo Clausen, noted for his powerful drives, proved he can be accurate as well by taking the lead in the hole-in-one tournament at Las Gallinas Golf Club this week.

Big Leo dropped a tee shot one foot, one-half inch from the cup Sunday to win the daily prize and take a solid lead for the grand prize in the tournament which ends Sunday night.

Sponsored by the St. Rita's Men's Club for the benefit of the parish Teen-age Club, the tournament will continue nightly this week, 7 to 10 o'clock and wind up Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day. Contestants are given five chances for $1.

St. Rita's club announced merchants have donated approximately $500 in merchandise prizes. Grand prize, for a hole-in-one, is $100.

Leading the women contestants to date is Mrs. George Marsh of San Anselmo with a mark of four feet, two and one-half inches.

LSU, Mississippi Top Sugar Bowl Choices

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Mid-Winter Sports Assn., sponsor of the Sugar Bowl, meets tonight to consider prospects for the Jan. 1 game.

Clause Simons, president of the association, said no teams had been discussed previously, but from what he hears everyone would like to see Louisiana State and Mississippi play again.

LSU, still No. 1 in the nation, topped then third-ranked Mississippi 7-3 in a thriller Saturday night. Mississippi now is No. 5.

Reese To Help Diz Announce TV Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers will lose Coach Pee Wee Reese Thursday. The former Dodgers' ace shortstop and third base coach last season will help Dizzy Dean telecast Saturday and Sunday major league baseball games of the week over CBS.

Deer Hunt Pleasant— Even Without Bucks

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If there's anything that nearly comes up to a successful buck hunting trip, it's a trip in which you hunt hard and cover a lot of territory, even though you don't connect with Mr. Buck.

That was our experience recently in the Alturas area—one day in the Devil's Garden, and another at Goose Lake.

Of course, a first hunt in the Garden is an experience in itself. We actually saw more deer (all does) than hunters, and that's going some. In all, we counted more than 100 does for the day, some in groups of two or three—others in bands of 20 to 30. But no bucks.

By the time we had traveled through most of the country, it was plain to see why the bucks weren't there. There were so many house trailers—small villages of them—and pickups, jeeps and regular cars combing the roads, no self-respecting buck would show himself.

The migration was in progress, but lacking foul weather, the bucks apparently stopped at the Oregon line, then filtered through at night.

The Devil's Garden area was the place where one of the heaviest concentrations of hunters converged in 1956 for the three-day either-sex hunt. From the amount of hunters that were on hand on the next-to-last weekend of the season, it was easy to see how they could have decimated the herds.

Early in the day, we stopped on the road through what formerly was the Hackamore refuge. Not too far away, a couple of hounds were hot on a buck trail. It was natural to leave the road, slip a cartridge in the chamber, and wait to see if he came our way.

He didn't, and within a few minutes, we were happy he didn't. Cars full of hunters began to emerge from all directions. Had we seen a buck and taken a shot, chances were good we might have bagged a three-point Buick, or a forked-horn jeep.

Things were different on the following day; not the bucks, because we still didn't find one, but the hunting pressure. We scoured the low ridges along Goose Lake.

This area, where you walk in and, if successful, must pack out your buck on your back, had practically no hunters other than our party. Walking over the lava rocks isn't the easiest form of relaxation and most hunters in Modoc County seem to prefer to road-hunt in the Garden or other accessible areas.

Using the glasses, we saw a number of animals moving through the juniper trees. Our hopes were raised, but only for a moment. It was a band of about a dozen antelope, including several nice bucks. Not quite in season, however.

We saw another group of antelope before the day was over. One buck in each band was crippled, indicating some hunters hadn't known the difference between an antelope or a deer, or didn't care.

This was not too surprising, perhaps. Some of the hunters who shoot livestock, or their companions, probably can get pretty interested in a nice buck antelope.

FIRST BUCK A BIG ONE

Pat Stocking, 15, Redwood High School sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stocking Jr. of 318 Kent avenue, Kentfield, bagged his first deer last Saturday near Markleeville, and it was a whopper. Here he is shown with the 185-pound buck. According to members of his hunting party, Pat killed the animal with a shot of at least 550 yards. In the party were Pat, his father, Pete Ravara and son Gary of San Anselmo and Hugh McKenney of Kentfield.

Veteran N.Y. Fight Judge Calls Boxing 'Garbage Pile Of Sport'

CONNOLLY

I think I'll renew my subscription to The Monitor, the Catholic weekly newspaper. Otherwise I might miss stories like this.

Perusing its columns a short time ago I ran across a yarn which, I believe, deserves wide circulation. It was a story about Dr. Harold R. Barnes, a practicing optometrist and until recently New York state's senior boxing judge, having officiated at more than 6,000 fights.

Dr. Barnes carefully points out that no fighter "deliberately" sets out to kill a ring opponent.

"However," Dr. Barnes writes, "it does seem logical and plausible that indirect homicide, direct bodily injuries, and mutilations that are the result of wallops for which points are awarded in almost direct proportion to their damaging effect, must be in violation of God's law . . . the Fifth Commandment (Thou shal not kill).

"BOXING IS THE only sport in which the object is to injure an opponent."

Dr. Barnes is leader of a New York organization called the "Let's Abolish Boxing Assn."

Dr. Barnes has for 40 years been judging world's championship fights. He claims boxing is a rotten sport on account it produces more dead, blind and maimed ex-participants than all the other sports put together.

Since 1945, according to Dr. Barnes, 156 fighters have died in the ring.

"BOXING IS NOT a part of CYO (Catholic Youth Organizations) in New York," says Dr. Barnes.

Monsignor Wodarski, who controls New York's CYO, established a policy a few years ago that has eliminated boxing from its activities.

"Father," writes Dr. Barnes, "was told by a prominent fight manager, watching CYO boxers perform: "you train them, we steal them and then we dump them half dead on your doorstep."

ACCORDING TO Dr. Barnes, that fight manager turned the trick on eliminating boxing activity in the New York CYO.

It really is hard to pick on boxing alone, if you consider the roughness in so many professional sports.

What is tougher, I ask you, than a youngster weighing 115 pounds aboard a thoroughbred and trying to keep the horse from running wide on a turn.

Some of the jockeys can't make it, as was proved last week at Golden Gate Field when Jockey Rose was dumped off a horse and died a couple days later.

MANY TIMES in watching pro football you wonder what enables a footballer to get up after a half dozen guys drop him, stomp on him and then leave the injured player on the field.

Boxing in California is lily white compared to the olden days when incompetent referees would allow boxers to take a mauling.

AND IF MAX BAER had been stopped from pounding the late Frankie Campbell in the SF ball park at 15th and Valencia, nobody would have been hurt.

The uncouth plays in football are being eliminated; horses no longer are doctored with dope, and one of these days, the boxing commissions of the country will regulate the boxing game to the extent that it becomes an entertaining sport, rather than a brutal one.

Coliseum Plaque To Honor Sanders

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The late Henry (Red) Sanders, who built UCLA into a national football powerhouse, will be honored with a plaque in the Los Angeles Coliseum's Court of Honor, the UCLA Alumni Assn. has announced.

The plaque will be unveiled Nov. 16, and will be placed at the peristyle entrance of the Coliseum along with similar memorials to Knute Rockne, Howard Jones, Andy Smith and Pop Warner.

Mrs. Ann Sanders, widow of the coach who died of a heart attack last year, will unveil the memorial.

Almonte Club Will Stage Barbecue, Meet Saturday

Almonte Improvement Club's annual meeting and barbecue will be held on Saturday at the clubhouse on Almonte boulevard at Wisteria way, Mill Valley. Combining business with pleasure festivities will start with a social hours at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30.

The annual business meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m., and dancing until midnight will complete the evening.

Chairman of this "bring your own and silverware" affair is Mrs. E. John Ross, and Mrs. John De Martini is in charge of food arrangements. A small schage per couple will be made to cover costs of other dinner courses.

Decorating will be done by Mrs. Erling Michaelsen, assisted by Mesdames Robert Alexander, Francis Gelardi, Robert Bohns, Jack Shapiro and Peter Giras. Mrs. Glenn Dawson has handled poster work.

Barbecuers, headed by David Beasley, will include Patrick Price, Peter Giras, Jack Shapiro and Jerome F. Downs.

Welcoming new members will be Mesdames Donald J. Taylor, Walter E. Munro, Patrick Price and Dorothy Molina. Mrs. Valerian Skrylov will be in charge of the membership booth, and John Furchak and Ralph Parlette will provide music.

All reservations are to be made through Mrs. Patrick Price or Mrs. Charles Dreyer.

The business portion of the evening will include a review of the past year's activities by president Mrs. Donald J. Taylor and her board chaimen, and a 1960 board of directors will be elected.

Nominated are A. R. Teather, Mrs. M. E. Halberstadt, Mrs. Dorothy Molina, Forest Sur, Mrs. David Beasley, Robert Alexander, Patrick Price, Capt. E. J. Boughton, Kenneth Foehr, Neal George, David Kong, Walter Munro, Francis Gelardi, Earl Thompson and Mrs. Taylor.

According to Mrs. Taylor, members attending the event will be amazed at the achievements of a group that worked all of a recent Sunday on landscaping around the clubhouse.

High Vamps

Shoes for the high school crowd are going up. High vamps, high scuffs and high colors, reports the Leather Industries of America. Only heels will be low-down among teen shoe styles.

Greenbrae Girl Scouts Mark The Birthday Of Juliette Low

Girl Scout Troop 153 of Greenbrae celebrated the birthday of their founder, Juliette Low recently cleaning up discarded papers around the Bon Air Shopping area. As assistance to others is a vital part of Girl Scouting. it was felt that this community service was an appropriate way to celebrate the birthday. Juliette Low became acquainted with the Scouting program in England and later brought home to Georgia the plans for Girl Scouting in America. The first troop was started in the United States on March 12, 1912.

Girls of Troop 153 arrived in uniform at the Bon Air area and put up the posters they had made to remind people to put litter in the proper containers. After cleaning up the area, the girls returned to the home of Mrs. Stanley Lawrence for lunch

On Tuesday the girls made litter bags for automobiles which they hope will serve as a reminder to parents to keep Marin County clean. Girl Scout calendars were also distributed at this meeting which the members will sell commemorating Nov. 7. Troop 153 will also work at Scout Hall Nov. 7 folding and stuffing envelopes with tuberculosis seals In order to complete their unit on "Community Life" for second class rank the troop will take a tour of Marin General Hospital on Nov. 17.

Highlight of this year's activities was an overnight trip to Alice Eastwood Park under the leadership of Mrs. Ward Wisecarver and Mrs. Bert Inman. Two meals were cooked and each girl learned to lay a fire.

Arrival From Canada

Dorcas Guild Readies Plans For Festival

Assembling bean bags and handkerchief cases will occupy the work period of the meeting the Dorcas Guild of the Resurrection Lutheran Church when the Guild meets tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. David Carlson in Terra Linda.

Members are preparing for the Friendship Festival on Saturday, Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the church. Coffee will be served to all attending the festival and holiday decorations, plants, handiwork, and baked goods will be sold. Mrs. Robert Huck, general chairman of the festival, asks all members to attend tonight's meeting to formulate final plans. Mrs. Huck is assisted by Mesdames Frank MacCubbing and Clayton Ernst.

St. Patrick's Guild

Women who are newcomers in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area are invited to an introduction meeting of St. Patrick's Guild, Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 8 p.m. in St. Patrick's Hall, Larkspur. Activities of the guild will be outlined. Mrs. Ralph Tobener, president, will conduct the business meeting. Discussed will be final plans for the guild's Fall Fantasy Dinner Dance on Nov. 21.

MRS. DUFFY TO REVIEW HER BOOK

Members of the evening Reading Arts section of Marin Branch, American Association of University Women, will hear Gladys Carpenter Duffy review her book, "Warden's Wife," tomorrow. Mrs. Americo Oberto will hostess the meeting in her San Rafael home and County Librarian Mrs. Richard Keating, who is an AAUW member, will introduce the author.

Mrs. Duffy went to San Quentin at the age of four, was married there, and stayed until her husband's retirement in 1951. After her graduation from State Normal (now San Francisco State College), she taught and was principal of the San Quentin school. Clinton Duffy, too, grew up on the "reservation" and became warden in 1940 after administering major reforms during his 30-day assignment as temporary warden. Since his retirement he has been a member of the Adult Authority of California and both Mr. and Mrs. Duffy are very active in movements to improve penal conditions.

Alpha Xi Delta Group To View 'World Gifts'

"Gifts of the World" will be featured when the Marin Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta meets tomorrow night at the Ross home of Mrs. John Scott.

Mrs. Richard O'Brien will present to the alumnae and their guests an unique collection, representative of such countries as India, Japan, Germany and Scandinavia. In her presentation, Mrs. O'Brien will relate the history of each article, tell how it is used in the country of its origin, and how it can be adapted for use in this country. The gift items are available for purchase.

Mrs. Donald Vanlue will be co-hostess at the dessert party, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Alumnae wishing to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Scott.

Three Lodges Plan Dinner In December

Nomination of officers and a silent auction were highlights of the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge held in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall with noble grand Mrs. Myrtle Dahl presiding.

Mrs. Paul Hughes reported on a "splendid response" to the clothing drive sponsored by the Christian Children's Fund, and past noble grand Mrs. John Luetke, district good fellowship chairman, explained plans for a turkey dinner to be given in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall in December by three lodges in District 61.

Several candidates will be initiated at the next meeting on Nov. 12, and officers will be installed on Jan. 28.

Practice drill for all officers, drill master Albert Hughes announced, will be held Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

Program for the evening was the silent auction and showing of colored slides by Mrs. Glenn Ensign of Tamal Rebekah Lodge. Of special interest were those of Mrs. Edna Moulton's "Queen for a Day" party and those of the official visit of Mrs. Harry E. Wall, district deputy president of District 61, who was present with several members of Golden Star and Tamal Rebekah Lodges. Also welcomed was Harold Owen, district deputy grand master of District 11, IOOF of California.

Serving refreshments after the program were Mrs. Clifford Spinney and Mesdames Harold Owen, Rilla Smith and Elva Bird.

High Heels

Sweet 16 no longer is the age when a girl first puts on high heels, reports the Shoe Fashion Service. Today, the average teen-aged girl starts wearing shoes with at least two-inch heels between the ages of 14 and 15. In some areas, 12-year-old girls wear high heels for parties and school dances.

Paul Eisler To Address New Group

Marin County men and women who are members of "Parents Without Partners," will hear attorney Paul Eisler discuss legal problems of one-parent families tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the YWCA, 620 Sutter street, San Francisco.

Parents Without Partners is an organization of widowed or divorced fathers and mothers of young children. The group, which originated in Marin County, as the inspiration of local young women who felt the need for such a group, meets twice a month with members from San Francisco, San Mateo, and other Bay Area communities, under the auspices of the San Francisco YWCA. Since it began in Marin County, the idea has caught the imagination of groups in many other locales and may well become the precursor of a national movement.

The local group now has close to 50 members and is expanding rapidly. Men as well as women are enthusiastic participants, according to Miss Patricia Tiggard, YWCA staff advisor. Miss Tiggard is a professional social worker provided by the Y with United Crusade help, to advise the group and to help plan programs ranging from "fun night" of easy sociability to more serious meeting with speakers on such subjects as child care and budget stretching.

New members are cordially invited to attend. For further information, they may write to Patricia Tiggard at the San Francisco YWCA, 620 Sutter street.

Camp Fire Girls Hold A Cook Out

The day started at Gerstle Park with a pancake breakfast. Tish Gallivan, Dianne Christiansen, Kathy Bell and Linda Schwartz, were on the breakfast committee.

Twenty girls went by cars to Camp Taylor for lunch, made and served by Janet Hoy, Joanne Robello, Linda Stirling and Linda Dotto. After lunch, Ann Faulkerson and Romono Howe led the girls in games and a hike up to the Mother Tree.

Back at Gerstle Park for supper made by Patsy Boldt, Sandy Downing, Sharon David, Cathy Farlin, Kathy Bean, Charleen Dell'Oca, Dianne Blake and Susan Vanderhoof. The stew was all prepared and then cooked in a big iron kettle over an open fire.

Celebration Marks Emma Willard Day

At the Hoover Institution at Stanford University the first Emma Willard Day celebration in Northern California took place on Saturday afternoon. It was under the sponsorship of the Northern California Emma Willard Alumnae Association of which Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette Jr. of Ross is president. She and Mrs. Wallace Sterling, wife of the president of Stanford University, poured at the tea which followed viewing of the Emma Willard exhibit and a talk by Mrs. Helen White Read, the new filed representative for the Emma Willard School.

Mrs. Willard, who pioneered in the field of education "instilled in her pupils the uncommon dedication to high ideals, service, integrity and education." These words written by Herbert Hoover were read at the celebration. Mrs. Orton W. Buckner of Tiburon was a member of the special committee for the day.

Camp Fire Dessert Meeting Tomorrow

Members of District III, the West Marin division of Camp Fire Girls, will hold the annual dessert meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School.

Mrs. Robert Oates, district chairman, will conduct a business meeting for the election of committee chairman for the coming year.

The theme for the program and decorations will be the Golden Jubilee in honor of the 50th birthday of Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. William Vanderbilt is in charge of the decorations.

Mrs. Ray Watts is in charge of the program, which will include skits, songs and puppet shows, put on by Camp Fire and Bluebird groups. Camp Fire groups have been invited to bring exhibits to be displayed around the room.

All parents of Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds are invited to attend.

BON AIR IS 7 YEARS OLD

. . . but the birthday party is for you!

Each year at this time we like to remember that it is you who have made it possible for us to enjoy the pleasure of doing business in Marin. It is the custom of many of our suppliers to also note the date we first opened our doors and make special yearly discounts in appreciation of the business we've done with them. Well . . . here's the way we feel about that. If you hadn't come to us to buy their product—they wouldn't be giving us these presents. In our way of thinking — the presents — or, in this case, the savings rightfully belong to you. So here they are. We hope that you can use each and every item . . . we've passed the savings to you . . . and we truthfully want to thank you from the bottom of our heart for seven of the finest years we could possibly experience.

Sincerely,

J. J. Kilpatrick

Bon Air Center Anniversary A Milestone For Developers

The seventh anniversary of Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae is another milestone in the spectacular development of Greenbrae by a family organization which came to Marin County shortly after World War II.

Niels Schultz Sr. and his sons, Niels Jr. and Alvin, quickly gained a reputation for their insistence that architectural styling conform to the character of the rolling Greenbrae area.

They were equally insistent that each house, by its design, be set apart from its neighbors. As a result of their architectural supervision, the ugly, stereotyped tract which has blighted other Bay Area communities is nowhere to be found in Greenbrae.

He worked in reconstruction of the city after the quake and fire, moved to Alaska for a period and returned to San Francisco in 1910 to participate in development of its Richmond District.

NIELS SCHULTZ SR.
Developer of Greenbrae

Through his early days in the construction field, Schultz tried his hand at just about every phase of building, continually adding to his store of first-hand experience and know-how which ultimately was to find expression in Greenbrae.

Schultz was one of the original developers of San Francisco's Marina District. As his sons joined him in development work, the family developed subdivisions in Benicia, Oakland and on the San Francisco Peninsula.

After developing the peninsula community of Millbrae, they set their sights northward, purchased the spreading oak-studded area which is now Greenbrae and started its development.

They announced their intent to preserve the character of the area and to make Greenbrae a way of life, not merely a subdivision. The evidence of more than a decade attests to their success.

Greenbrae has been planned to make minimum inroads in the natural beauty of the rolling hills. Its roads carefully—and often expensively—avoid "straight as an arrow" alignment, leaving the area's ancient oaks undisturbed wherever possible.

Apart from the single-family residential developments, the Schultzes have developed the Bon Air Apartments south of Sir Francis Drake boulevard to a point where they now provide more than 300 apartment units. Nearby is the Schultz-developed Bon Air Shopping Center.

The latter, expanding steadily since its 1952 opening, provides a supermarket, hardware store, home furnishings and decorator shop, pharmacy, branch post office, barbershop, beauty salon, laundry and cleaning establishment, shoe repair shop, two service stations and an automatic car wash.

Over the years, Niels Schultz Jr. and his brother, Alvin, have assumed major responsibilities of the several Schultz companies. Each also has found time to devote to community affairs.

Since 1956, Niels Jr. has been a member of the Marin County Planning Commission. He is an active and articulate participant in commission discussions and actions.

Car Wash Newest Addition To Center

The Bon Air Shopping Center's newest addition, the Greenbrae Car Wash, which will have its grand opening Saturday, is the culmination of the dreams and the hard work of a pair of young men who have been in business at Greenbrae since early 1957.

This is the story of Bob White and George Sosic. White, at 32, has 12 years of service station experience in Marin County. Sosic at 39 has eight years of station experience and six years' tire and accessory experience.

Three years ago, White and Sosic pooled their resources to form their own company, and, with the assistance of The Union Oil Co. and the Schultz Building Co., started the construction of the Greenbrae Union Station at the entrance of the Bon Air Shopping Center. Early in 1957, they opened for business.

In January of this year they asked the Schultz Co. to consider a new service addition, a car wash. The Schultz Co. ordered a survey immediately. The survey covered market, construction and cleaning techniques and equipment. A study was made of changing car design and a method developed for handling every make and model. This covers a range from the smallest foreign economy car to one General Motors' product that has defied commercial cleaning because of its greater width.

On Saturday, car wash will have its grand opening. Of its construction, George Sosic said, "It has to be the most efficient unit of its kind because we have accepted nothing but the best in its construction."

Bob White said, "With this equipment, we can clean a car satisfactorily in 3 minutes but we will take 6 to 8 minutes and be sure."

Heated Dream

GEARY, Okla. (AP)—An early morning dash was made by firemen to a Geary house. A woman told Chief Lloyd McNeely a neighbor boy ran into her house shouting "fire, fire." Turned out 13-year-old Clarence Pickett was sleep walking.

NATION'S LEADERS ALL TOOK HATS OFF TO HER

That was back in Washington, D.C., when Mrs. Flynn was a hat check girl at the Carlton (now Sheraton Carlton) Hotel and, later, the operator of a hat check concession at the Restaurant Pierre.

She worked her way through beauty school keeping track of fedoras doffed by Speaker Sam Rayburn, the late Secretary of State Cordell Hull and former President Harry Truman, to name a few. Truman was then a U.S. Senator from Missouri.

Mrs. Flynn came to California 14 years ago, working in San Francisco and San Anselmo before opening her own salon at Bon Air Shopping Center in May, 1955. Associated with her is Bernice Agers, an experienced beauty operator who was once her co-worker in San Anselmo.

John DeVries Interiors In Fourth Year At Greenbrae

The home furnishings and decorator shop is operated by deVries and his wife, Annette. Associated with them is Armand Nolan. The couple moved the store to the shopping center from San Rafael in 1956 in order to obtain larger quarters and better parking facilities.

"Those who have dealt with us know exactly what we mean," says deVries. "We would like many others to come in, browse around leisurely and give us an opportunity to elucidate.

"What we mean, briefly, is that when you buy furniture, carpets or draperies, you are making a major investment in each instance, an investment that should be lasting.

"We believe it is more thrifty and economical to buy a sofa that gives good service 10 years at double the price of one that will break down in three years. A carpet that wears bare in a few years is a bad investment no matter how little you paid for it. Poorly made draperies can be a source of annoyment from the day you put them up until they fall apart."

SKILLED CRAFTSMEN—Frank Lucchesi, 21, a third-generation shoemaker, and Leland (George) Osborn, his able helper, demonstrate their skills in Frank's new shoe repair shop at Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae. Open only five weeks, the shop already is doing a solid business.

Frank Lucchesi, owner of Frank's Shoe Repair at Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae, and his helper, Leland (George) Osborn, have two important things in common — courage and ability.

It took courage for Lucchesi, who is only 21, to leave San Francisco last month and stake his future in a new business of his own. But he's already convinced he made the right decision.

2 Big Changes Mark Year At Bon Air Shop

First, owner Floyd M. Hilty of San Anselmo took in his son, Murry of San Rafael, as a partner in the business.

Second, the father-son partnership moved the store to new and larger quarters at 180 Bon Air Shopping Center.

At the new location, they have more than 4,000 square feet of space, compared with 2,700 at their former quarters six doors away.

Greenbrae's New Model Home Open

A beautiful example of home construction and decor is presented in the Greenbrae Co. model home now on display at 370 N. Almenar drive in Greenbrae. The home was built by the Schultz Building Co. and furnished by Casa Marin.

Located in a recently opened area of Greenbrae, the home is situated in an upland valley and sheltered by low, wooded hills. The level entrance opens into a living room that features a new brick fireplace wall and picture windows. A separate dining room is large enough for formal dining.

Supermart Marks 7th Anniversary

Bon Air Supermarket, now celebrating its seventh anniversary, has been a family favorite of Greenbrae residents since it opened in 1952 as the principal unit of the Bon Air Shopping Center.

Last summer, it became a family store in the literal sense when young Jim Kilpatrick, a son of owner James T. Kilpatrick, went to work for his dad as a full-time employee.

The senior Kilpatrick plans to observe the supermarket's seventh anniversary the same way he does every other business day, by putting in long hours on the job.

Kilpatrick came to Marin from Millbrae on the San Francisco Peninsula. He was one of the residents who participated in the move to incorporate that community, and served as its first mayor.

He operated a food mart in Millbrae, a community developed by the Schultz organization, which, shortly after World War II, started development of Greenbrae in Marin and continues its development today.

The market, Kilpatrick reports, has grown steadily in volume of customers and and sales. It now employs 22 persons besides the boss. Kilpatrick says the store has tended to increase customer volume as each new shop has been added to the center. The shopper, he adds, can do his or her complete day's shopping in one convenient stop at Bon Air.

The customer wheels his purchases up to the check-out area in a shopping cart and places them on a turntable, using a handy rubber divider to separate them from items purchased by other customers in line.

As the merchandise is checked, it moves along a conveyor belt to waiting packagers, who bag or box it for the customer.

With five check-out stands operating in this fashion at peak business hours, the store can speed each customer on his way with a minimum of delay.

Other features of Bon Air Supermarket are self-service meat, produce, dairy products, grocery and sundries counters, efficiently arranged and widely separated to permit easy passage of two lanes of shopping cart traffic. The store also maintains a fully stocked liquor department.

Doors of the market are automatically operated. Floor panels activate them at the touch of a customer's foot.

Across the front and to one side of the market is a huge parking area which is more than adequate to handle the biggest of shopping crowds. Access to and egress from the shopping center are made convenient and safe by three-phase traffic signals on Sir Francis Drake boulevard at the entrance.

A Greenbrae fixture, Kilpatrick also makes his home there. He and his family moved this year to a new house at 14 La Cuesta drive.

They Really Stretch

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—How far will a rubber band stretch?

Giant versions, which look like the ordinary office rubber ban, but are six feet long, are now being used in industry warehouses and shipping rooms, reports President Clyde O. DeLong of B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. They will stretch 18 feet.

The king-sized bands were developed to hold cartons together in stacks so they won't slip or tumble when being loaded, DeLong says.

LINK BETWEEN THE OLD AND THE NEW

The recently opened Bon Air Bridge, seen here from the north approach and with Mt. Tamalpais towering in the distant background, provides a long-awaited link between the 50-year-old City of Larkspur and Greenbrae's rolling residential area, developed since World War II. Conceived in 1951, completed last April and opened to traffic Oct. 17, the span provides a motor shortcut between Magnolia avenue and Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The Schultz family, developers of Greenbrae, donated a portion of right of way for the project.

Barber Has 38 Years Experience

Louis Nickle, owner of the Greenbrae Barbershop at Bon Air Shopping Center, figures he's given nearly 300,000 haircuts during a career in barbering that started 38 years ago.

Whatever the precise number may be, Nickle has done a lot of shearing in his day.

He started cutting hair in a North Tacoma, Wash., shop before coming to California in 1921. In San Francisco, he was a barber at the Stewart Hotel, among other places.

Nickle moved to Marin County in 1928 and opened his own shop in San Anselmo. For 13 of his 18 years there, he was very active in Boy Scout work, rising to commissioner of District 5 of the Marin Boy Scout Council.

His career took a nautical turn from 1946 to 1953, when he served as a civilian barber aboard a number of large Navy ships, including a hospital ship and a succession of troop transports. He crossed and recrossed the Pacific many times during the Korean War.

Nickle, who now lives in Corte Madera, opened his shop in the Bon Air Center on June 1, 1955. His able fellow-barber since that day has been Vince Galligan, who's been cutting hair a long time himself (since 1926).

The modern, sanitary Greenbrae Barbershop is equipped with three comfortable late-model barber chairs, plus an equally comfortable pint-sized chair for small fry. The shop's neat appearance attests to the pride which Nickle and Galligan take in their work.

Greenbrae Lanes Seeks To Fill Need For Family Sport

"The first step in the operation of a successful bowling establishment in Marin County is to learn what the people of Marin want and the second step is to give it to them."

The first step, according to Coates, was the tough one. Unlike city residents, Marin people prefer entertainment that the whole family can share.

Their boating, fishing and hobbies are entered into as a group. A bowling alley was a place the man went alone. It was his "night out with the boys."

The work necessary to the establishment and maintenance of a suburban home is a joint effort of the whole family and develops a community of interest between the adults and their children that tends to include their recreation interests as well. Father still likes his night out but finds it more satisfactory to share the experience with his family.

With this in mind, Greenbrae Lanes started, in July, a program for the whole family. First an instruction program for the ladies and then regular housewives' leagues. The first group consisted of 18, a few of whom had bowled before. By calling and personally inducing each new member to bowl, assistant manager Ron Gurries succeeded in rounding out a complete league. Then came a second and a third and now, at last count, 280 women in regular league play.

THOMAS COATES
Greenbrae Lanes Manager

The program was an immediate success and such excellent volunteers as Marylin Epedendio, Rosemary Paganini and Lee Golsch turned out to assist Mrs. Smith. Boy Scout, Girl Scout and Camp Fire Girls came in groups for instruction. The Tamalpais High School Girls' Athletic Association came in 80 strong in October.

Marin County families wanted a place to play together and have evidently found it.

As to his future plans, Coates says, "We will always maintain the kind of place a family can enjoy together and we have plenty of room for more, in leagues and open play. I hope we can continue to please Marin."

Greenbrae Pharmacy Enters Second Year Of Operation

One year ago, Henry N. Brocco and his wife, Lorraine, both graduate pharmacists, opened the Greenbrae Pharmacy at Bon Air Shopping Center.

"Business has been good during the first 12 months," Brocco reported this week. "We are very pleased, and we are looking forward to an even better year ahead."

Since last year's opening, Jeannie Eldridge has come to the pharmacy as head of the cosmetics department. A cosmetician and cosmetics saleswoman for 25 years, she had worked previously in San Rafael and Mill Valley.

Mrs. Eldridge, who offers expert advice on skin care, color of makeup and types of perfumes, said Marin women can get "the same beauty help here that is available in San Francisco."

Three distinguished names have been added to the pharmacy's fragrance lines in the last month: House of Guerlain, D'Orsay and Caron. A full line of Elizabeth Arden cosmetics is another recent addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Brocco now can offer quick delivery service from the Greenbrae Pharmacy to any point in the county, thanks to the purchase of a German-made Opel delivery station wagon.

Besides filling the shopping center's need for a drug store, the pharmacy provides the Greenbrae area with a branch post office.

LOUIS NICKLE
IS HAVING AN ANNIVERSARY, TOO.
Five years have passed and the locks of 267,000 heads have fallen on the barber shop floor . . . Everyone well satisfied too, including Louis.

Country Cobbler A Flavorful Favorite With Mince Meat Fans

The origin of mince meat is lost in the mists of time, but as far back as the fifteenth century manuscripts record "mynce pyes" served at the coronation of England's King Henry V. In 1616 Ben Johnson paid tribute to mince meat in his "Masque at Christmas" and in 1662 Samuel Pepys entered in his famous diary a notation on mince pies enjoyed at the wedding feast of a Sir William Penns.

Early settlers to Canada and the United States brought favorite mince meat recipes to this continent—recipes which took many hours to complete. And, following tradition, mince meat appeared at festive holiday occasions.

Today, thanks to modern food processing, delicious mince meat dishes may be prepared quickly and easily. To give mince meat a completely new touch, home economists have developed a cobbler combining ready-to-use mince meat, mandarin oranges, sour cherries and a prepared pie crust mix. They call it Country Cobbler.

Country Cobbler is so simple to make—combine ingredients according to recipe given here and bake for 25 minutes—it can be a pleasant everyday dessert, not only a fancy one for special dinners. Men-folk especially will enjoy this dessert for its hearty full rich flavor.

COUNTRY COBBLER
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

- 1 (11-ounce) can mandarin oranges, drained
- 2 cups Mince Meat, well drained
- 2 teaspoons flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 (1-pound, 4-ounce) cans sour cherries, drained
- 1 (5-ounce) stick Pie Crust Mix
- 2 tablespoons boiling water

Combine oranges and mince meat. Arrange in bottom of 8-inch square baking dish. Mix flour and sugar with cherries; pour over orange-mince meat mixture. Mix pie crust stick and water according to package directions; roll out pastry on floured surface to 8½-inch square. Arrange over fruit. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes or until pastry is brown. Serve with ice cream or whipped cream.

Desserts Of Delicate Flavor Rate High On Family Menus

Colorful desserts with delicate flavor always rate high on menus. Among the favorites, welcome at any meal, are molded desserts with fruit such as the dessert we have for you today.

The firm texture of the canned pineapple in this recipe combines appetizingly with the macaroon crumbs and whipped cream folded into a gelatin base.

PINEAPPLE-MINT DESSERT

- 1½ tablespoons plain gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 No. 2 can (10 slices) sliced pineapple
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint. (If not available, use few drops mint extract)
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 egg whites
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sugar
- ⅔ cup macaroon or cooky crumbs
- 1 cup whipping cream

Soften gelatin in cold water. Drain syrup from pineapple; add to mint leaves and bring to boil. Stir in gelatin, cover and let steep about 15 minutes. Strain. Add lemon juice and chill until thick but not firm.

Cut pineapple into wedges, saving out 1 or 2 slices for decoration. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff and gradually beat in sugar. Fold into thickened gelatin. Fold in pineapple and crumbs. Whip cream until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into oiled or wet 1½ quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and decorate with whole strawberries, pineapple slices and frosted mint leaves. Serves 8.

Blueberry-Lime Mold

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fresh blueberry lime mold makes a tempting summer salad. Soften 2 envelopes of unflavored gelatin in 1 cup of cold water. Add 1½ cups of hot water, ⅛ cup of sugar, and ¼ teaspoon of salt, and mix well to dissolve gelatin. Blend in ½ cup of fresh lime juice. Chill until mixture is as thick as fresh egg whites. Fold in 3 cups of fresh blueberries, turn into a 5-cup mold and chill until firm. Garnish with salad greens and serve with mayonnaise. Serves 6 to 8.

Noodles Are So Versatile

Noodles are good so many ways, and can add new interest to many a familiar dish. Take for instance the Eggs Benedict pictured here. This is a fine luncheon, supper, or brunch dish—and hearty, too. It's Canadian bacon slices topped with poached eggs and a savory sauce, all nestled in a bed of noodles. A gelatin mold with vegetables or fruits is a nice accompaniment to add a touch of cool tartness and contrast in texture. Try noodles as a new touch for other "saucy" dishes such as creamed eggs, chicken ala king, seafood newburg, or a rich meat stew. They're also a fine "vegetable" to serve with any meal when they're dressed with butter and a little pepper or your favorite spice or herb, as well as an ingredient in all sorts of popular casseroles.

NOODLES EGGS BENEDICT
(Makes 4 servings)

- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 ounces wide egg noodles (about 4 cups)
- 1 10-ounce can condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 cup sour cream
- ¼ cup chopped chives
- 4 eggs
- 4 broiled slices Canadian bacon, about ¼-inch thick

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered stirring occassionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Combine condensed soup, sour cream and chives; mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, to serving temperature. Slip eggs, one at a time, into 1 inch hot water. Cover and cook over low heat 3-5 minutes or until desired degree of doneness. Serve noodles topped with bacon, eggs and chive sauce.

Cooking Eggs

HIGH ON THE LIST of universally popular dishes is meat loaf. A new recipe is this which substitutes thrifty cuts of veal shoulder or veal stew beef. Together with Swedish meat balls and new toasted onions, it is a dish the whole family will go for.

New Loaf Recipe Substitutes Veal Cuts In Place Of Beef

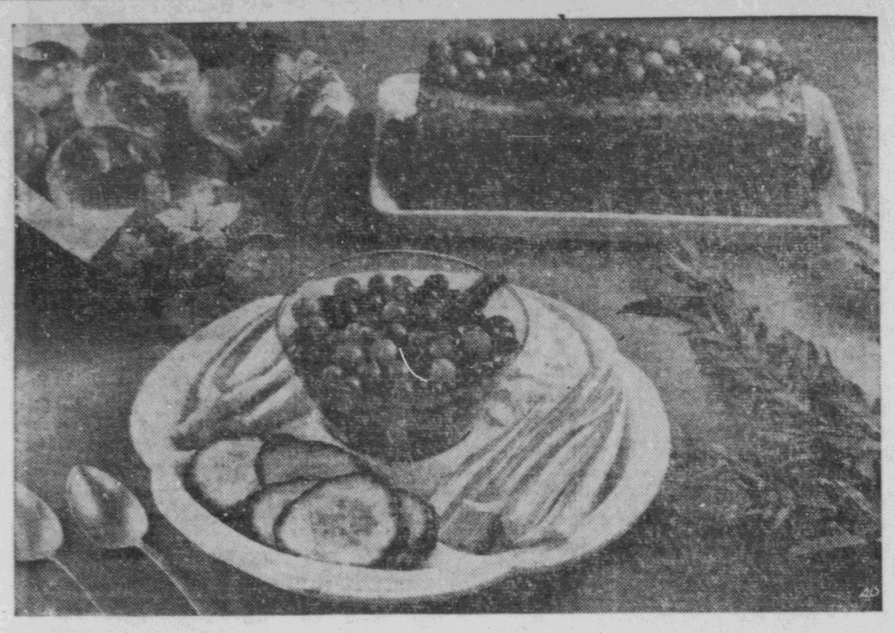
Meat loaf rates high on the list of universally popular dishes but imaginative cooks are constantly on the lookout for new ways to dress up this favorite dish. Today's recipe offers two such interesting and rewarding ideas and results in a loaf that's juicy and moist and holds together perfectly. First, in place of the usual beef, this loaf is made with the more thrifty cuts of veal shoulder or veal stew meat. Then, borrowing a flavor secret from those delicious, authentic Swedish meat balls, the recipe calls for instant toasted onions which have the crisp, crunchy texture and flavor of golden sauteed onions. These new, instant toasted onions, all ready to use, are available now in glass spice jars and you save all the preparation work. There's no peeling, no tears, no lingering odors and no grease and you can always be sure of uniform onion flavor in your foods.

Jellied applesauce molds, with an inviting lemony tang, are an excellent accompaniment with the meat loaf, or you can serve these for dessert. This recipe offers an opportunity for getting acquainted with another convenient flavor helper you'll find handy to keep on your spice shelf—the fine-grated lemon peel (or orange peel, if you prefer) that's stocked on your grocer's spice shelf and is ready to use—a quick, easy way to accent flavor of salads, cakes, cookies and puddings.

TOASTED ONION HAM-VEAL LOAF

- 1 lb. veal shoulder or veal stew meat
- 1 lb. ham
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 3 tbsps. green pepper, chopped
- 3 tbsps. celery, chopped
- 2 tsps. prepared shredded parsley
- 3 tbsps. instant toasted onions
- 1 cup dry bread crumbs
- ¾ cup milk
- ¼ cup catsup
- ¼ cup brown sugar

Have meat man grind ve and ham together two times. large mixing bowl combi beaten eggs and meat. A green pepper, celery, shredd parsley, instant toasted onio bread crumbs, milk and catsu Blend together thorough Cover bottom of loaf pan w brown sugar and pack m mixture on top. Bake in m erate (350°) oven for 1 hour minutes. Let stand 5 to 10 m utes and turn out on servi platter so glazed bottom of l is on top. Makes 6 servings.



PICTURE RECIPE: For a relish, simmer about 20 minutes 1 pound cranberries, ¼ cup each cider vinegar and water, 2 cups sugar, 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 2 whole allspice (both in cheesecloth) and 2 cinnamon sticks.

Expert Counters Fads With Facts On Food Front

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—University of Illinois nutritionist Harriet Barto says food fads rob Americans of millions of dollars each year.

Fad: potatoes and milk are fattening. Fact: no one food settles in the fatty tissue. All foods supply calories and if you consume more calories than your body uses, fat is formed from the surplus carbohydrates, food fat and proteins.

Fad: margarine is more difficult to digest and is less nutritious than butter. Fact: fortified margarine has the same nutrients as butter and is as easily digested.

Fad: Pasteurization reduces the food value of milk. Fact: the only nutrient that is affected in pasteurization is vitamin C, and milk isn't a rich source of this vitamin.

Fad: flour ground at home is superior to commercially ground flour. Fact: the two flours have exactly the same nutritive value.

Cherry Nougat Treat Is Festive

To make 8 servings, combine 1 cup of sugar with 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until golden brown. Stir in 1½ cups of chopped walnuts and heat to boiling.

Press into 8 (3-inch) greased tart pans. Cool. Remove from pans and fill with cream mixture made by mixing ¼ cup of chopped, well-drained maraschino cherries (about 10 cherries) into 1 cup of heavy cream, whipped.

Recipes To Dress Up Cranberries

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

This small tart fruit, a legacy from America's earliest days, will appear with turkey as usual on our holiday and everyday cool-weather tables.

Clipper ships out of Gloucester, New Bedford and other ports once carried supplies of fresh cranberries to help keep their crews fit. These centuries later we know that the little cranberry supplied sailors with vitamin C. Modern health-conscious cooks might note that there's more of this nutrient (ascorbic acid is its other name) in unstrained than in strained homemade cranberry sauce.

Way back in the 16th Century Indians pounded them along with dried deer meat into a pulp, then shaped the mixture into cakes and dried them in the sun. Interested in how the berries have come? Then make up a batch of plain whole-cranberry sauce and see how many of these suggestions fit into your scheme of good things to serve and eat.

1. Drain and heat canned peach or pear halves; send them to the table with a spoonful of cranberry sauce in each cavity. Offer with roast turkey or chicken.

2. Stir some of the cranberry sauce into freshly-made applesauce to serve with roast pork.

3. Dry drained canned pineapple slices on paper toweling, then lightly brown the pineapple in hot butter in a skillet. (The drying helps along the browning.) Ring a ham loaf with the pineapple slices and spoon some cranberry sauce into each cut-out center.

4. Save orange halves when you prepare fresh orange juice. With a kitchen scissors clip out the membranes from inside the orange halves; zigzag or scallop the edges to make pretty cups. Add chunks of fresh orange to cranberry sauce and spoon into the orange halves. Serve with roast duck when company's coming.

5. Halve canned sweet potatoes and turn them into a baking dish that is attractive enough to come to the table. Heat them in the oven with an orange or other simple sauce; about five minutes before you are ready to serve, spoon a layer of cranberry sauce over the potatoes and return to the oven for just long enough to heat the berries but not long enough to change their pretty color.

And last, a nice conceit: add a bowl of spiced cranberries to a relish tray of celery, carrot sticks, cottage cheese, cucumber slices. Pass with soft rolls and butter for eaters to munch while Dad carves a bird or Mother slices a ham or beef loaf.

Good Ending

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lemon nutmeg cream ends late summer meals refreshingly. Combine 1 cup of sugar, ¼ cup of ground nutmeg, 2 tablespoons of cornstarch and ⅛ teaspoon of salt. Beat 1 egg. Gradually stir in 1 clup of water and ¼ cup of fresh lemon juice. Cook over low heat or hot — not boiling — water until thickened. Cool. Fold in 1 cup of heavy cream, whipped, 1 teaspoon of vanilla extract and ½ teaspoon of grated lemon rind.

Chill in 6 sherbet glasses and serve garnished with whipped cream and grated lemon rind.

Hot Dog

CHICAGO (UPI) — A record high production of hot dogs—more than one billion pounds—is forecast for this year. E. E. Ellies, executive of a firm that makes cellulose casings for skinless frankfurters, said this means a consumption of 63 hot dogs per person.

Hungarians Favor Pressburger Horns

NEW YORK (UPI) — Give an international flavor to dessert by serving Hungarian pressburger horns.

Dissolve 1 cake of yeast in 1 cup of cold milk milk. With a knife, cut ½ pound of butter into 4 cups of sifted flour. Add to flour mixture 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1 tablespoon of sugar, ½ pint of sour cream and the yeast mixture, working it quickly to a smooth dough with as little handling as possible. Allow to rest 2 hours.

Toss on floured board, roll ¼-inch thick, and cut into 3-inch squares. Fill each with 1 teaspoon of paste made of 2 cups of either ground walnuts or poppyseeds, ¾ cup of sugar and ½ cup of hot milk. Use 1 teaspoon of grated lemon rind to flavor the poppy seed filling, and 1 teaspoon of vanilla for the walnut variety. Fold over dough, seal edges and form neat horns. Put 1-inch apart on a baking sheet and let rise ½ hour, brushing with beaten egg yolk 2 or 3 times as it dries. Bake in a moderate oven (350-400 degrees) until golden brown.

Cotton Crepe

'BON APPETIT' IS THE TITLE FOR AUXILIARY'S COOK BOOK

Bon Appetit!

That's the title of the newest Marin County "favorite recipe" cook book, to be published this month.

The book is a joint project of the employees and members of the Women's Auxiliary of San Rafael General Hospital. Profits will benefit the non-profit hospital.

Joe Bell, medical technologist and cooking hobbyist, is editing the book. It will contain a collection of several dozen recipes, including dips, main dishes, salads and desserts, donated by members of the staff, auxiliary, and friends of the hospital.

The book will be inexpensively priced so that copies may be sent in lieu of Christmas cards or given as "extra gifts," Bell said. Advanced orders may be sent to him in care of the hospital.

Sweetening

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt. (UPI) — Pure maple syrup, the oldest recorded native American food, was used by the Pilgrims as a sweetening for the first Thanksgiving dinner in 1621. Indians showed the settlers how to tap maple trees for the syrup. Leading states in production today are Vermont, New York, Michigan, and Ohio.

Quick And Easy

Make a quick-and-easy salad dressing with a packaged Caesar salad dressing mix by using two tablespoons tarragon vinegar and one tablespoon cider vinegar instead of the 3 tablespoons vinegar called for.

Antipastos Offer Variety

As everyone in the know will tell you, antipasto means "before the meal." But when it comes to describing the combinations that make up this appetite-whetting dish, they will agree on only one point. Antipasto is a combination of cheese, fish, meat and vegetable—all generously sprinkled with Italian olive oil and wine vinegar just before serving. It is at its best accompanied by Italian vermouth with a twist of lemon peel.

When you travel through Italy you will soon learn that antipasto combinations vary according to the immediate and local bounty of poultry, eggs, meat, vegetables and gifts from the sea.

Here in the United States there is no reason to confine antipasto to any specific or regional combination. The American homemaker need only take a trip to the local supermarket to find the best in processed foods Italy has to offer. A variety of imported Italian sauteed mushrooms, marinated artichoke hearts, pimiento, anchovies, green and ripe olives, spicy salamis, sausage and Italian ham (prosciutto), to name a few—all are within arm's reach.

In less time than it takes to wash, scrub, peel and cut up enough fruit for the indomitable American fruit cup appetizer, you can create a veritable masterpiece of color, variety, texture, flavor and appetite appeal o tempt the most discriminating.

The following list will help you identify these carefully processed imported foods that go into making any number of antipasto combinations. Keep a supply on hand. Real Estate News and Values

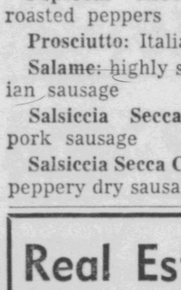
Time marches on. John Jones, though now nearly retired, tried to keep pace. He had the latest of everything, except a home.

His home was comfortable, but out of style. However, John was so used to coming "Home" every night he just took it for granted. Inside the house, however, it was a different story.

He bought a new car, but he parked it in his old garage. He bought an expensive, brand-new TV set. Naturally, he would have been insulted if the salesman had him a used one. Yet he brought it he brought it home to a well-used 1925 model house.



Arthur Hoffman

Just the other day, though, John saw that the house wasn't the best he could afford. He realized that his home had not kept step with his present income, tastes, or social requirements. John decided, rightfully, to enjoy life to the fullest in an up-to-the-minute home.

Perhaps you have never given this matter a thought. But don't forget that the home you live in is the outer shell around your whole family life. You spend most of your time there.

Every Child Should Enjoy Privacy Of Bedroom He Can Call His Own

"We have a boy and a girl," a father writes. "We live in a two-bedroom home. Our daughter has one large bedroom. Our son shares the other with my wife and me. He is 9. My wife says we should move to a bigger house so the boy can have a bedroom of his own. That would be very expensive. Is he being hurt by sharing our room? Should he have a room to himself?"

Your son should have a room to himself. Every child should, if possible.

Your present arrangement isn't too good. Usually no harm is done when a baby shares his parents' bedroom, but it becomes hazardous soon. The child is almost sure to awaken and see or hear things he shouldn't. He may develop some deep-seated fears over it.

Many psychiatrists have said that children's personal lives are permanently marred by sharing their folks' room.

There are other reasons too.

Every human needs privacy. In these days of crowded living we forget that. We're the losers. Your boy needs a place to go when things get thick. He needs an area that is his own. He needs a place to put his property. He needs a retreat. We all do.

A boy's bedroom needn't be large—just big enough for a cot, a dresser and a place to hang his clothes. He could help fix up the room.

Many families meet this problem by putting temporary partitions in large bedrooms. Then costs aren't too great.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband has been away for almost a year. In his absence our son has become quite affectionate. The boy is 5. Sometimes he comes to me and kisses my cheek. Sometimes he hugs me and tells me he loves me. I don't object, but my husband says the display of affection is wrong for a boy. He wants me to punish our son for showing his love. Is he right?" D.L.A.

(A) No. Love needs to be demonstrated. Your boy is behaving normally. Don't think of punishing him for it.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of the year with 57 more days in 1959.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1842, Abraham Lincoln married Mary Todd at Springfield, Ill. One of the guests said Lincoln looked as "pale and trembling as if being led to slaughter."

In 1879, humorist Will Rogers was born.

In 1952, the United States elected its first Republican president in 20 years—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In 1956, Anglo-French forces invaded Suez.

A thought for today: American author Ernest Hemingway said, "The world is a fine place and worth fighting for."

LIVING WITHIN INCOME

Oklahoma's Entire Debt Totals $10,000

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Eighteen years ago, Oklahoma began an unusual financial experiment of living within its income.

That was in 1941, when the public debt had grown to 40 million dollars because the legislature kept voting to pay out more money than Oklahoma was taking in.

Since then, all but $10,000 of the 1941 indebtedness has been paid off. (And that's only because the state can't find the bond holder.) Every budget has been balanced. Furthermore, taxes have not been increased since World War II, and, in fact, they were cut a third in 1947.

The "budget-balancing" amendment put up two bars against debt. First, the legislature is prohibited from appropriating more than estimated revenue. Second, if revenue falls short of the estimate, every government department will be cut on a pro rata basis.

This has never had to be done, though, thanks to inflation, an expanding economy and conservative estimating.

The estimate is made by a State Board of Equalization, which must base its figure on average revenue for the past three years although it can make allowance for changes in tax rates or in economic conditions.

The 1941 amendment made two exceptions to the rule against indebtedness. The state can borrow money in case of insurrection, invasion or ware, or the people can approve a bond issue.

Since then, the citizens of Oklahoma have voted twice for college and mental health building bond issues. These totalled fifty-one million dollars.

What would happen if an emergency made an unusual expenditure necessary? The legislature maintains an emergency fund to be spent at the direction of the governor. If there wasn't enough money in the fund, the governor could call a special session of the legislature to raise taxes. This has never happened.

Gov. Howard Edmondson said the effect of the 1941 amendment has been "very definitely good."

"I don't think there is any doubt but what it has held the line on tax increases. Proof of that is Oklahoma is one of the few states that hasn't increased taxes since World War II."

Oklahoma, like many other states, faced what seemed to be a budget crosis during the 1959 legislative session. Fund requests from various agencies topped revenue by almost $200 million. Under the budget-balancing amendment, the lawmakers had only two choices: raise taxes or cut spending. They cut spending.

Taxes — 30th nationally in rate per capita. The average Sooner pays $153.71 a year in state and local taxes. In the ratio of taxes to income, Oklahoma ranks 15th.

Education—per capita expenditure of $48 per student annually, which is 11th nationally, 27th in school teacher salaries with $4,525 a year. This does not reflect recent raises.

Highways—13th in nation at $50.28 per person a year. Congressional hearings last year showed Oklahoma ranked fourth in interstate mileage under construction, exceeded only by Texas, North Carolina and Iowa.

Oklahoma has a public debt of $35.3 million, resulting from the 1949 and 1955 college and mental health building bond issues, but the current interest is only $60,000 a year. This is because the state itself holds $32.3 million of the indebtedness, purchased with idle funds on deposit in the state treasury.

Treasurer Bill Burkhart says the other three million dollars, which is held by private investors, will be paid off in 1961. It is drawing two per cent interest.

While public debt against the state is small, several millions in self-liquidating bonds have been issued to finance such projects as college dormitories, state park lodges and turnpikes. These are to be paid from the agencies' own revenues rather than from taxes. Opponents have charged that this practice is an evasion of the budget amendment, but the courts have upheld its constitutionality.

County Funds Voted For Inventory Plan

An appropriation of $685 was voted by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday for a county inventory control and annual inventory plan put before the board by Donald A. Jensen, county administrator.

The work will be done by the newly mechanized Data Processing Bureau. Supervisor William D. Fusselman snorted that "the only purpose is to give employment downstairs so that it doesn't look like a graveyard."

Jensen protested that the grand jury auditor had recommended an inventory control. "It does cost more money," he explained, "but you establish a system for constant control of what goes on."

Supervisor Vera L. Schultz asked whether the administrator "recommended this as worthwhile," and Jensen replied that he did.

Fusselman said: "I'm not against an inventory and a good one, but I'm getting quite a chuckle out of what goes on downstairs."

The supervisors also followed Jensen's recommendation that the county counsel be directed to prepare an ordinance to hold department heads accountable when items on their inventories disappear.

Drunk Drivers Get Fines, Jail Terms

Two drunken drivers drew jail terms this week for their second offenses, and a third got off with a fine.

Robert John Thornhill, 42, of 1099 Las Pavadas Avenue, Terra Linda, must pay $250 fine and serve 10 days in jail. He was caught Oct. 28 on Highway 101 driving while under the influence of liquor. Thornhill had a previous conviction in May of 1956.

Rogers Carrier, 46, of Richmond, must pay $350 fine and serve five days in jail. He was caught traveling about 80 miles per hour over the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge last Aug. 29. Carrier was convicted in San Francisco in May of 1954.

Robert Guy Burgon, 34, of 91 Sunnyside street, Mill Valley, drew one year probation and $250 fine for drunken driving on Highway 101 on Oct. 5.

Small Boat Harbor Unit Chief Quits

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — H. G. Stevens, chief of the state Division of Small Craft Harbors, has submitted a letter of resignation.

The Small Craft Harbors Commission will meet here tomorrow to act on Stevens' resignation and consider a possible successor.

Stevens, who has headed the harbors division since it was created by the 1957 legislature, resigned effective Oct. 31 in a letter to the commission and Dewitt Nelson, state director of natural resources. The letter was dated Oct. 29.

In the letter, he said he wished to return to his previous posts as a marine consultant, legislative advocate and publisher's representative.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
Marin General Hospital,
Marin County Hospital District,
250 Bon Air Road,
San Rafael, California.

We have examined the accompanying balance sheet of MARIN GENERAL HOSPITAL as of June 30, 1959, and the related statement of income and expense for the year then ended, and including the accumulated excess of income over expense. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The accompanying statements include only the finances of the Marin General Hospital and are exclusive of funds and accounts administered by the County Treasurer in conncetion with Marin County Hospital District Bonds.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the financial position of Marin General Hospital at June 30, 1959, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, except that no depreciation has been provided for hospital buildings, applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

MANOR VIEW
Here are 4 brand new homes that have everything a home owner could wish for. Thoughtful planning and quality building in a location that is one of the loveliest in Marin County. There is a panoramic view that is magnificent. The interiors of these 3 and 4 bedroom homes have the same fine quality construction and planning as the exterior. There has been lavish use of handsome, smartly designed wall papers. The fireplaces in both living rooms and family rooms are of used brick, as is one wall in the kitchen. The kitchen is well planned for minimum work with all built-ins. The bedrms., are spacious with double closets. The baths are beautifully done with lovely wall paper, tile and colored fixtures. If it's quality construction and the best in design — be sure and see Manor View, Fairfax — $29,500 to $31,500.

Marin Choral Group Elects New Officers

Other new officers are John Beedle of Tamalpais Valley, vice president; Ethel Kelsey of Corte Madera, secretary; Ruth Mason of Corte Madera, treasurer, and Mary Ewald of Corte Madera, publicity chairman.

The Marin Chorale, a volunteer group of 85 adult singers, is directed by Dr. John Milton Kelly, head of the sacred music department of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Wilbur Russell, also a music professor at the seminary, serves as accompanist at the Chorale's weekly rehearsal meetings in Montgomery Chapel on the San Anselmo campus.

The group's first concert of the season will be given during a Christmas vespers program at 5 p.m., Dec. 6, in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

The chorale will join the seminary choir and a-cappella choir in presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at 8 p.m., Dec. 8, at the Presbyterian Seminary.

Mumps Tops Disease List

Twenty-four cases of mumps were reported in Marin County last week, the Marin County Health Department announced. San Anselmo and San Rafael each reported nine cases, Fairfax reported two and other areas reported four cases.

Six cases of measles were reported, two each in Mill Valley and Belvedere, and one each in Corte Madera and Larkspur.

Strep infection brought 13 reports, six in San Anselmo, three in San Rafael, two in Corte Madera and one each in Larkspur and another area. Marin City reported one case of tuberculosis. Hepatitis serum was administered in Mill Valley to one person.

Three cases of gonorrhea were reported in unspecified areas and one syphilis case in Corte Madera.

Story Hour Marks Kids' Book Week

A story hour will mark Children's Book Week Friday at 3:30 p. m. at Fairfax branch of the Marin County Free Library. It will be conducted by Mrs. Rosalie Moore Brown, a poet and winner of two Guggenheim awards, and with her husband, Bill Brown, author of several books for children. Her latest is "Big Rig."

A special display of children's books and posters will be arranged by Mrs. Emily Shortell, librarian.

To Pilot Jet Airliners

Robert W. Brady of Novato, a captain with United Air Lines, has qualified to serve as pilot of the airline's new Douglas DC8 jet airliners. The new rating was awarded after Brady had completed 135 hours of ground school, 20 hours of simulated flight and 13 and one-half hours of actual flight time in a DC8.

Albany, capitol of New York state, was first named Ft. Nassau, then Ft. Orange, then Albany.

Psychiatrist Launches Campaign To Lift Taboos On Homosexuality

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Edmund Bergler, who was the first psychiatrist to "cure" homosexuality on a rational and repeatable basis, has launched a campaign against the prevailing and time-honored approaches to that social problem.

He described these approaches as "severe legal restrictions, private moral indignation, and a conspiracy of silence." He said they are wrong and socially harmful because psychiatric science has proved that homosexuality is a disease of the mind and many of its victims can be cured.

Bergler's position is akin to that of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed a vaccine which prevents polio and never hesitates to campaign for its widespread use. Bergler developed psycho-analytic techniques which cure another disease which has been considered incurable.

He first described these techniques in 1942 to a medical group. Since then he has detailed them in technical books and contributions to technical journals, and they are being applied by an increasing number of psychiatrists throughout the world.

Yet the law regards this sickness as an offense, and authorities treat the victims who come to official attention as criminals. That distresses Bergler; he is equally distressed by efforts of some homosexuals to convince normal persons that their behavior is a phase of normality and they are members of a "third sex."

Basically his campaign is against "artificially muffled discussion of a topic involving millions," and he launched it with a book, "1,000 Homosexuals" which was published this month.

It revealed that eight psychiatrists using the Bergler technique have cured 150 homosexuals in the past 18 months and that Bergler himself in perfecting the techniques has cured well over 100.

He gave an "over-simplified" account of the cause of the disease. "Imagine a man who for some mysterious reasons unconsciously wants to be mistreated by a woman, though consciously unaware of this wish," he said.

"Imagine, further, that this person inwardly fears his own wish, but instead of giving up the wish itself gives up its alleged or imagined central figure, woman. Since there are only two sexes, this leaves him only one alternative in his frantic flight."

Masochism — pleasure in suffering — is the unconscious mechanism which keeps the disease going, he said. Many young neurotics have this mechanism established in their unconscious minds, and circumstances can hook it up to active homosexuality.

Bergler advocated programs to train young psychiatrists in the treatment of homosexuality and clinics in general hospitals where homosexuals who can not afford private treatment could be treated instead of being treated as criminals or, at the very least, subjected to the unjustified opprobrium of society.

Building Department Issues 33 Permits

The Marin County Building Inspection Department issued 33 permits in the week ending Oct. 30 for construction valued at a total of $420,922.

Included was a permit for the $92,000 Westminster Presbyterian Church at Tiburon boulevard and Blackfield drive on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Tickets Available For Marin 'Nutcracker' Performances

Tickets for the Dec. 12 and 13 performances of Tschaikovsky's "Nut-cracker" ballet went on sale this week in Marin County.

The "Nutcracker," a combined venture of the Marin Youth Orchestra and the Leona Norman School of Ballet, will be presented at 2:30 p.m. in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

This special concert is not included in the regular membership of the sponsoring organization; the Symphony Guild of Marin. Tickets are available at Hoy's in San Rafael and San Anselmo; the Marin Music Center in Mill Valley and San Rafael, and Miracle Music in San Rafael.

LOUIS P. MOUNTANOS

Sheriff Mountanos Will Head Marin Palsy Drive

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos will serve as 1960 campaign chairman of United Cerebral Palsy of Marin County during its annual fund-raising drive in January, Mrs. Claude Barnes, president of the association, announced today.

A 53-minute "March for Cerebral Palsy" will climax the drive Jan. 18. Every 53 minutes a child is born with cerebral palsy somewhere in the United States, Mrs. Barnes said. She pointed out that Marin has more than 100 known victims of cerebral palsy, but estimates based on total county population indicate there may be more than 350.

LATE SEASON SAFEST TIME FOR HUNTING

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—State Fish and Game Director Thomas L. Kimball says he likes to do his hunting late in the regular big game season.

"That's when most of the amateur hunters are finished," he told newsmen in reviewing the high toll of five hunters shot to death and nine wounded this season.

San Rafael Man Must Stand Trial On Assault Charge

Waye Staggs, 46, San Rafael wrecking yard operator accused of attacking a San Rafael contractor with a board, will face a felonious assault charge in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court heard testimony at a prelimanary hearing yesterday and ordered Staggs to appear in superior court Monday.

The victim, David Beisel, 40, of 91 Louise street, told the judge Staggs came over the fence and used obscene language. Beisel said he grabbed Staggs and told him to stop the abusive language, whereupon Staggs grabbed a heavy board and hit him over the head. Beisel said he turned to face the assailant and got a blow across his face with the board.

Farm Census Set For Marin County During November

Marin farmers and ranchers —not to mention many greenhouse operators—will be counted and their "resources and agricultural products" inventoried beginning Nov. 16 by census takers for the U.S. Department of Commerce.

David E. Jeffries of Petaluma, crew leader for the Bureau of Census under the Commerce Department, announced today that five census enumerators from five areas within Marin County will conduct the survey for a period of three or four weeks.

Things the enumerators hope to learn, he said, include: the number of all farms and ranches in the county; an inventory of agricultural land and the ways in which it has been used this year; kinds and numbers of livestock and poultry farms; the number of farms having such services as telephones, electrical freezers, etc.; number of farm workers and hours worked, and "major" agricultural expenditures.

Weekend Sale Of Rummage Set By Drake

A wide variety of items, including a washer, bird cages with birds, pick and shovel set, garden tools and golf bags, will be sold Friday and Saturday at a rummage sale at Sir Francis Drake High School.

The usual selection of clothing, toys, household wares, books and magazines will also be displayed in the girls' gymnasium from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday.

Purpose of the sale is to raise money for the Drake student selected to participate this year in the Experiment in International Living program. Duane Miller, history teacher, is adviser for the cultural exchange plan.

A committee headed by Mrs. John Wagstaff of Sleepy Hollow, whose son Ken was last summer's grantee, made final plans for collection and display of rummage at a meeting in her home.

BILLION-TO-ONE CHANCE COMES TRUE IN BIRTH

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Hospital attendants said it was a billion to one chance, but it happened Monday to the John Le Croys.

Mrs. Le Croy gave birth to a daughter. The time was 3:13 a.m.

The Le Croys have two other children. One, a boy, was born exactly four years ago, and Le Croy isn't spoofing when he says exactly. Clifford's birth was recorded as Nov. 2, 1955—at 3:13 a.m.

Boys Pelt Woman, Girls With Eggs

Four young boys threw a dozen eggs at a Tamalpais Valley housewife and two teenaged girls in front of the Community Store on Shoreline highway Monday night.

Sheriff's Deputy Edmond Mauberret said parents of the 12 to 17-year-old boys agreed to pay the cleaning bill.

Eggs were splattered on the clothes of Mrs. Rose Marie DeMooy of 311 Robin road, Tamalpais Valley. She said she went to the store about 5:30 p.m. and notice two teen-age girls inside who were afraid to go out because the boys were waiting outside. As Mrs. DeMooy led the girls out, they were pelted with eggs.

Two Stolen Cars Found Abandoned

A 1935 Ford owned by Robert J. Wallerman of 187 Woodland avenue was found abandoned in front of 150 Glen Park avenue Monday. The keys were gone, but the car appeared undamaged.

A 1953 Chevrolet sedan, owned by Larry E. Leibnitz of San Anselmo, was stolen from the San Rafael municipal parking lot. It was found Monday under a fig tree at the Meadowland in the Dominican College area. The owner drove the car home.

Job Security

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI — Lt. Arthur D'Arcengelo said the painter who put an extra "o" in the word "unloading" on four street signs won't be fired. The signs were painted by an inmate of the state prison.

Yuban...richest because it's blended with Aged Coffee Beans, fresh-roasted at peak flavor

deep...dark...delicious YUBAN

TIME IS YUBAN'S SECRET

YUBAN's aged coffee beans ripen with time to a rich bronze, mature in flavor month after mellow month. Then, at the peak of flavor, they're fresh-roasted.

OTHER coffee beans are roasted while they are still green in color and young in flavor. They cannot compare in richness with Yuban's aged coffee beans.
